SEE HOW DONATIONS GROW

Community Chest campaign chairman John Dyck "points the way" to what he hopes will be the most successful drive ever in the current canvass for $69,060 in aid of 18 local member agencies. The campaign began Monday with a commercial, industrial and professional canvass in city and district, with the main drive scheduled Oct. 4 and 5 in a two-day residential blitz in city and district. Theme of this year's campaign, reminds Mr. Dyck, is "if you don't do it, it won't get done." —(Courier photo)

Britain Names Defector Who Told Of Soviet Spies

LONDON (CP) — The foreign office today named Soviet trade official Oleg Lyalin as the defector who gave information about alleged Russian spying in Britain.

Lyalin's defection early this month was followed by a British expulsion order against 90 Russians and a decision to forbid another 15 who had valid visas from returning to London.

A foreign office spokesman said Lyalin was an officer of the Soviet trade delegation in Britain.

The official disclosure followed newspaper reports that a Russian named Oleg Lyalin, 34, was in fact the KGB secret police officer who had defected after being brought up on a drunken-driving charge.

He was out on bail and due to come before a magistrate's court today but, as expected, he did not appear.

KEPT IN SECLUSION
A well-placed informant said that the man would not make a public appearance for some time.

Soviet names, translated from the Cyrillic script used in Russia to Western letters, often vary in their English-language spelling. The informant said the Soviet United has been warned that Britain would make public full details of the spy information alleged to have been provided by the defector if retaliatory action is taken against British diplomats in Moscow.

The Soviet news agency Tass claimed Britain had built up what it calls a "Soviet menace" scare as a means of torpedoing efforts to relax East-West tensions.

New 'Hot Line' Guards Peace
WASHINGTON (Reuter) — The Soviet Union and the United States today signed agreements to reduce the risk of accidental nuclear war and improve the hot-line link between Washington and Moscow.

State Secretary William P. Rogers, who signed for the U.S., called for intensified efforts to reach agreement in strategic arms limitation talks to control expansion of the Soviet and U.S. missile systems.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, signing for Russia, said he hoped today's accord would be followed by other agreements.

STOCKS STROLL UP
NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices held to a modest lead in a listless session today. Volume was moderate.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was up 3.35 at 887.78.

$500,000 WIN A NUISANCE
LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Winning almost $500,000 can be a bit of a nuisance in some ways, a London nurse has discovered.

Ethelwyn Hittman, 55, who won $480,000 tax-free Wednesday in an Irish Sweepstakes draw, has been swamped with telephone calls from press, friends and well-wishers.

So Mrs. Hittman decided she would have to take steps to regain her privacy.

Telephone callers to Mrs. Hittman today were greeted by a recorded message, telling them her number was no longer in service.

Mrs. Hittman, a widow and mother of three daughters, went to work at Westminster Hospital at 3:30 p.m. as usual Wednesday despite all the excitement earlier in the day.

But she thought she would like to catch up on some sleep and get a little privacy today.

QUAKE EXPERT DIES
BALTIMORE (AP) — Dr. Joel H. Swartz, 77, a geophysicist and leading expert in forecasting earthquakes, died Tuesday after a brief illness.

Greene Better

TOKYO (CP-Reuter) — Energy Minister J. J. Greene of Canada is recovering from a stroke he suffered Wednesday, a Japanese doctor said today.

Dr. Katsuhiko Hiramori of the Japan Heart Institute of the Tokyo Women's Medical College, who examined the minister, said the left side of his body was still paralysed, but Greene could answer questions and sometimes joked.

Dr. Hiramori said Greene, 51, would have to stay in hospital at least a week.

Dr. Hiramori described the attack as a cerebro-vascular accident. He quoted Mrs. Greene as saying her husband collapsed while shaving Wednesday at their hotel.

Greene, leader of a seven-man Canadian government delegation, arrived in Tokyo Saturday.

PARTY SPLITS UP
Jack Austin, Greene's deputy, said the party now will split up, leaving the Greens and Wayne Thomson, special assistant to the energy minister, here.

Austin and the others including Lorne Gray, president of Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd., will go on to Iran and Western Europe to fulfil planned engagements.

The Canadians came to Tokyo for talks about trade in energy resources and development of uranium fuels.

Greene's schedule had called for him to leave today for Tehran to discuss prospects and developments in world oil trade with officials of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, based in the Iranian capital.

Peking Cheers
PEKING (Reuter) — Hundreds of red flags unfurled today in Peking's vast Tian An Men Square made a vivid spectacle on the eve of China's national day as diplomats in Peking puzzled over the apparent mystery of a government decision not to hold the traditional banquet tonight.

Peking is in a carnival mood despite the earlier decision not to stage the customary parade Friday, a decision that led to widespread speculation abroad.

A foreign decision to hold a reception tonight at the invitation of the foreign ministry, instead of a banquet with Premier Chou En-lai as host as in former years, is likely to lead to further speculation.

Diplomatic sources said in Peking it is unlikely that Chou will attend the reception in the Great Hall of the People and the other members of the Chinese leadership probably will not be present.

A foreign spokesman said Wednesday night the decision not to hold the banquet was another reform measure in keeping with the decision not to hold a parade marking the 22nd anniversary of the People's Republic.

LEADERS STAY AWAY
Observers noted that the new format for tonight's gathering meant that the Chinese leadership need not be on display as in past years.

Leading members of the politburo of the Chinese Communist party were present at last year's banquet, including senior military leaders.

But Chairman Mao Tse-tung and Vice-Chairman Lin Biao, his heir apparent, have not in past years attended this function.

Girl Of Nine Found Slain
LINDSAY, Ont. (CP) — A nine-year-old girl's battered body was found in the basement of her home Wednesday and police said she may have been sexually assaulted.

Deborah Lyn Bulmer was found by her brother David, 17, and two friends after they got home from school.

David told police that doors to the house were locked when he went in, but a rear window had been broken open.

Debbie's body was found in a pool of blood that came from wounds to her head. There were marks on her throat that Lindsay policemen said looked like strangulation marks and she appeared to have been sexually assaulted.

Police Chief Jack Wales ordered the body left untouched all night while pathologists and investigators for the forensic sciences laboratory in Toronto were to examine the evidence.

Debbie's mother, a widow, went to her job as a waitress Wednesday despite all the excitement earlier in the day.

But she thought she would like to catch up on some sleep and get a little privacy today.

Hurricane Ginger Pounds East U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hurricane Ginger pounded the North Carolina coast today with 90-mile-an-hour winds, knocking out electric and telephone service, smashing windows and toppling rides at an amusement park at Atlantic Beach.

The National Weather Service said Ginger, which stalled in the Atlantic Ocean for three weeks before heading for land, was one of the largest and oldest hurricanes on record.

The storm's 70-mile-an-hour eye was 20 miles east of Morehead City, N.C. at 10 a.m. EDT, but gusts of up to 90 m.p.h. were recorded. The weather service said the centre of the storm probably would hit land later in the day.

As Ginger moved in, winds from her western edge pounded the coastline, knocking down utility lines, uprooting trees and capping mobile homes. High tides and heavy rains flooded low-lying areas and blocked some streets and highways.

No injuries were reported. Many coastal and island residents evacuated the area. The Red Cross estimated that 1,800 persons took refuge in shelters set up in schools, churches and National Guard armories.

The winds smashed plate glass windows, tore down signs, and sent huge waves crashing over the boardwalk at Atlantic Beach, across Bogue Sound from Morehead City.

At New Bern, high tides sent small tanks of gas and oil floating out onto a river, causing a navigation and fire hazard.

The weather service said that because of the huge size of the eye, many areas along the coast would experience long periods of winds if the hurricane moved ashore.

Hurricane warnings were in effect along the coast from a point north of Wilmington, N.C., to Virginia Beach, Va. Gale warnings were up elsewhere along the North Carolina coast and northward from Virginia Beach to Rehoboth Beach, Del.

U.S. Ready To Drop Its Levy If Others Free Currencies
WASHINGTON (CP) — The 10-per-cent special United States import duty will be removed when other countries let their currencies float freely in international exchange markets and remove specific barriers to U.S. exports, U.S. Treasury Secretary John B. Connally said today.

He told the 118-nation International Monetary Fund the U.S. is prepared to remove the surcharge if other countries will take these actions "over coming weeks."

Connally did not refer to any other country by name, but it is believed he was aiming his remarks both at Canada, for the removal of specific trade restrictions, and at Japan and some other countries for not, in fact, letting their currencies float freely.

The Canadian dollar has been floating since the end of May, 1970. Finance Minister E. J. Benson of Canada said here earlier this week the Canadian government has not tried to influence daily exchange rates, which now are set simply by

Hirohito Again At Receiving End
ANTWERP, Belgium (Reuter) — An egg smashed onto the windshield of Emperor Hirohito's Mercedes as it approached Antwerp's main square today.

The egg was apparently thrown at the car by a young Belgian student, who was quickly hustled away by police. The Japanese emperor stepped from his car apparently unharmed.

Winter Early In B.C. Areas
VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia's first snowfall of the season and record low temperatures were recorded Wednesday.

Small amounts of snow were reported at Fort St. John, Prince George, in parts of the Cariboo and in the Allison Pass area of the Hope-Princeton highway.

Penticton and Cranbrook had record low maximum temperatures for September while record low maximums for Sept. 29 were recorded at Abbotsford, Nanaimo and Lytton.

Minister Says Provincialism To Blame In Ecological Threat

EDMONTON (CP) — Narrow provincialism was partly responsible for construction in 1960 of the W. A. C. Bennett Dam in British Columbia and the subsequent threat to the Athabasca Delta in Alberta, Environment Minister Jack Davis said today.

Because of the provincialism, the supply of water to the delta has been cut off, he told the Western Canada Water and Sewage Conference.

The water table in the delta, at the western end of Lake Athabasca, has already fallen four or five feet, muskrat populations are dropping, fishing is threatened and buffalo herds and millions of migratory birds are endangered, the minister said.

The "big environmental problem" was the result of the "thoughtlessness of those whose tunnel vision was typical of the so-called water managers in the 1940s and 1950s."

"Narrow provincialism and our haste to produce energy with little or no regard for the future is tending to leave the Athabasca Delta high and dry."

B.C. NOT ALL TO BLAME
Mr. Davis, who worked as a planner for the British Columbia Electric Co. Ltd., said he does not place all the blame on the B.C. government. The federal and the Alberta governments were equally to blame.

"Ottawa should have insisted, using the Navigable Waters Protection Act, that the unfavorable effects of the Bennett Dam... were kept to a minimum."

Alberta, he said, should have made sure that its territory, people and recreational potential were enhanced rather than damaged by the dam.

Mr. Davis said an interim report of a joint task force studying the Athabasca Delta problem says there is "still some hope" that a $200,000 impoundment work will help flood 60 per cent of the delta in the spring.

"Hopefully this, and other works, will help us save the delta." But the delta, Mr. Davis said, could never be put back in its original condition.

There was little indication that the B.C. government would put up the necessary money, "which should really come, directly, out of the pockets of consumers of power in British Columbia."

ALL DELTAS IN DANGER
In his speech, titled "Don't Destroy Our Deltas," Mr. Davis said that the Fraser River Delta near Vancouver was also threatened, as were most deltas in Canada.

Urban sprawl, harbor construction, industrial pollutants and the dredging of shipping channels were growing problems that threatened to destroy "the best example of a truly productive delta in Canada."

A "no other potential problem" was the proposed hydro dam at Moran on the Fraser River. The 750-foot-high "monstrosity" would remove most of the silt fertilizing the Fraser River Delta, alter the ecology at the mouth of the river, and change the feeding conditions for fish in the lower Fraser and the Strait of Georgia.

"Our big $100-million-a-year commercial salmon fishery could be cut in half. The chances of your catching a salmon on the West Coast would be downgraded and our recreational potential in Canada's biggest and best inland sea could be undermined as well," Mr. Davis said.

Ulster Protestants Mourn Two Men Killed By Bombers
BELFAST (CP) — Northern Ireland mourned today the deaths of two more victims of terrorism, killed when a bomb wrecked a crowded bar. Twenty-seven persons including five women were injured by the blast.

The two men killed by the bomb, biggest used so far in Belfast by terrorists, were Protestants.

Police feared the bombing was a terrorist attempt to provoke Protestants into an angry backlash that would run the risk of spilling over into civil war with Roman Catholics.

Several thousand Protestants gathered outside the wreckage of the Four Stars Inn after the blast late Wednesday night but militant community leaders including Rev. Ian Paisley persuaded them to go home peacefully.

Other bombs wrecked a trucking depot and a bar, both in or near Catholic areas in Belfast, but caused no casualties.

Snipers wounded a British soldier in the lower abdomen while he was patrolling the Catholic Ardoyne area of the capital.

The two deaths from the bar blast swelled the two-year toll to 112, including 24 troops sent to keep the peace. In the last seven weeks, 47 persons have been killed.

In Dublin, Prime Minister Jack Lynch ordered the Irish Parliament to reconvene a week early from its summer holiday to debate the Northern Ireland crisis.

The move came after his two days of summit talks in London with Prime Minister Edward Heath of Britain and Brian Faulkner of Ulster.

They jointly appealed for an end to violence but failed to agree on a common approach to interment—Faulkner's policy of arresting suspected terrorists without the right of trial.

Faulkner has rejected demands by Lynch and Ulster's Catholic minority to abandon the policy without first waiting for violence to end.

Some Believers 'Too Scared' To Join Action Canada Party
TORONTO (CP) — Some people who believe in the aims of Action Canada are afraid to join the movement, Paul Hellyer said Wednesday.

Mr. Hellyer, a former federal cabinet minister and founder of the political pressure group, said that in travels across Canada he has found "a tremendous amount of dissatisfaction" with traditional party politics. But he said many who wanted to join Action Canada did not do so because of "a lot of fear... of identification with a cause that may not succeed."

Mr. Hellyer, who represents the federal constituency of Toronto Trinity, formed Action Canada in June, shortly after leaving the Liberal caucus to sit as an Independent Liberal.

Speaking to an audience of about 70, Mr. Hellyer said a convention in Toronto this weekend will be asked to decide upon a "major package" of Action Canada policies outlining how Canada could have full employment without surrendering freedom or permitting continued inflation.

Police Defend Gastown Action

A Vancouver police inspector said Wednesday he did not think undue force was used in clearing the Gastown district during disturbances Aug. 7 although it might have appeared that way to a casual observer. "We were not playing games," said Inspector Robert Abercrombie, senior police officer in the area Aug. 7, was testifying at a government-ordered inquiry into the Gastown fracas in which mounted police were used to disperse the crowd. The inquiry was ordered by Attorney General Leslie Peterson following complaints of police brutality in breaking up a "marijuana smoke-in" demonstration in the rejuvenated waterfront district.

... not harmed

Julio Hirschfeld Almada, Mexico's director of Federal aviation, was released apparently unharmed by his kidnappers after payment of a $240,000 ransom. The 52-year-old millionaire industrialist stepped from a dark car in front of his Mexico City home at 10:45 p.m. almost 60 hours after he was kidnapped by three men and a woman as he left his home Monday morning. There was no immediate indication whether his kidnapping was political, but almost all speculation in Mexico was that it was the work of one of several small bands of guerrillas pushing for the overthrow of the government.

Gilles Leblanc, a 10-year-old boy abducted and murdered last week was buried in Hull, Que., Wednesday. About 300 people, including the boy's Grade 5 classmates, attended the funeral mass at St. Raymond Church. The boy was kidnapped Thursday and held for $3,000 ransom. Communication with the kidnapper ended that night after an attempt to pay the ransom money failed.

Warden Robert G. Smith met with four prisoners of Windsor, Vt., state prison late Wednesday following what he called a minor disturbance inside the 163-year-old facility. He said he was given a list of written and oral demands. However, he refused to say what they included.

Capt. Ernest Medina, acquitted last week by an army court martial of murder at My Lai, said Wednesday in New York that he will go to work for a helicopter manufacturing firm controlled by his lawyer, F. L. Bailey.

A Toronto man who had already failed his driver's exam twice, did it again Wednesday—by proxy. Police said that fearing he might fail again, the man sent his older brother—who already had a licence—in his place. He failed too. Michael Mouzakitis, 24, and his brother Nicholas, 31, have been charged with impersonation on an examination.

Crest and MFP toothpastes are effective tooth decay preventives, the Canadian Dental Association declared in Ottawa

Wednesday in an unprecedented endorsement in Canada of a commercial dentifrice by the organization. Dr. William Spence, a Toronto orthodontist and association president, said the endorsement is based on the testing and similar endorsement of the therapeutics council of the American Dental Association.

George Burnham, an 80-year-old veteran of the two world wars, has lost again in his seven-year battle to have Canada's Maple Leaf flag thrown out in favor of the old Red Ensign. A three-man panel of the British Columbia Appeal Court in Victoria rejected Tuesday Mr. Burnham's appeal of a county court ruling last January that barred him from instituting further legal actions.

In Petersburg, Va., a 14-year-old student burst into a class at a city high school Wednesday, pulled a pistol and fired four shots that left one boy dead and two other children wounded, school officials said. Police identified the dead boy as Dorsey L. Wiles, 14, a white student at predominantly-black Peabody Junior High. The alleged assailant and the two wounded students are black.

President Nixon, decrying what he called "growing and disturbing isolationism in our country," told international finance leaders in Washington Wednesday that his administration will continue to press for a strong world role. In urging International Monetary Fund governors and foreign finance ministers to seek permanent solutions to world financial problems, Nixon said political differences that divide the nations can be substantially reduced if the monetary crisis is eliminated.

A huge reservoir of fresh water has been found in an underground sand deposit that stretches across northern Saskatchewan. Prof. F. F. Langford of the department of geological sciences at the University of Saskatchewan in Saskatoon, said Wednesday the deposit is 300 miles long, 70 miles wide and 800 feet deep and contains more water than any lake in Saskatchewan.

President Nixon talked with the Soviet foreign minister about European security and major disarmament issues in Washington Wednesday in what was termed "a very cordial meeting." Berlin, the U.S. Soviet Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, the Middle East and Vietnam also were topics in a two-hour session between Nixon and Andrei A. Gromyko, the White House said.

A $12-million lawsuit has been filed in United States District Court, Los Angeles, by 19 relatives of 109 persons killed in the crash of an Air Canada DC-8 near Toronto, July 5, 1970. James McCarthy, lawyer defending Air Canada, said he does not expect trial for at least a year.

Pennsylvania state police and Civil Air Patrol searchers found four bodies Wednesday in the wreckage of a Canadian light plane missing since Sept. 18 on a flight from St. Catharines, Ont. to Philadelphia. A hunter, Richard Hafer of North Wales, discovered the wreckage early Wednesday in a remote area on Armenia Mountain.

A security investigation is under way in Ottawa to find out how Black Panther leader Huey Newton entered Canada and left for China without being detected.

William Harding Jackson, 70, a former deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency and a former counsel general for the New York Stock Exchange, has died in Tucson, Ariz., of a stroke.

Rudolf Hess marks Friday his 35th year in Spandau war crimes prison — and his fifth year as its sole prisoner. The Western allies are willing to free the ailing, 77-year-old former deputy of Adolf Hitler. But the Soviet Union insists he serve his full life sentence. There is speculation that Hess will add yet another chapter to his bizarre career—that of pawn in the search for a relaxation of tensions between East and West.

One Body Recovered

KITIMAT, B.C. (CP) — A search and rescue helicopter Wednesday picked up the body of one of two Terrace men who failed to return from a fishing trip in the Douglas Channel area south of Kitimat.

The body of 49-year-old Charles Orto was spotted lying in the water off Emma Island 19 miles southwest of Kitimat. The search continues for the other man, 44-year-old Art Becker.

Tough Terms For Robbers

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — Leonard Phillips, 23, of Burnaby, B.C., and Wilson Janvrin, 19, of New Hampshire Wednesday were sentenced to five years each for the armed robbery of a service station attendant Aug. 29 in which $52 was taken. Judge Ron Munro of city court said in passing sentence that there had been a rash of armed robberies in the area and the sentences would act as a deterrent.

GETS FIVE YEARS

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — Gordon Gillis, 39, was sentenced Wednesday to five years in prison after he pleaded guilty to two counts of break and enter. Gillis was arrested here last year, but skipped bail of $500. He was arrested again May 10 in San Francisco.

CHARGED IN DEATH

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — Orville Levesque, 50, of Shawinigan Lake, B.C., Wednesday was charged with impaired and dangerous driving in the July 25 death of Fern McKay, 21, of Prince George, killed in a two-car collision on the Hart Highway. The charges were laid after a coroner's jury ruled Tuesday that Levesque was to blame for the accident.

CHARGE DISMISSED

MATISQUI (CP) — A charge of manslaughter against Michael John Skipp, 25, an inmate of Matsqui penitentiary, was dismissed in provincial court Wednesday following preliminary hearing. Skipp had been charged in the death of another prison inmate earlier this year.

REGISTERS CONCERN

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Greater Vancouver Regional District passed a motion Wednesday to inform the federal government that it is "gravely concerned" with the possibility of marijuana being legalized. The motion was passed after a letter was received from New Westminster city council saying the city objected to a recent youth committee recommendation to the federal government that marijuana be made legal.

STATUS CHANGED

VICTORIA (CP) — The provincial government passed an order-in-council Wednesday bringing the status of the Narcotic Addiction Foundation under the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service as an outpatient clinic. The order gives the foundation's method of treatment for drug addicts federal and provincial financial support.

Submitted by Pemberton Securities Ltd.
1654 Ellis St.

TORONTO (CP) — A strong advance by western oil issues pushed prices on the Toronto stock market fractionally higher, interrupting nine consecutive losing sessions, in moderate mid-morning trading today.

The western oil index climbed 3.45 to 232.46, industrials 64 to 168.85 and base metals 13 to 80.31. Golds dropped .34 to 173.88.

Volume by 11 a.m. was 527,000 shares, up from 503,000 at the same time Wednesday.

Advances outnumbered declines 134 to 88, with 159 issues unchanged.

Beverages, merchandising, oil refining and pipeline issues were among the market's strongest sectors.

Canadian Tire A was up 1/4 to $33, Bow Valley 1/4 to $28 3/4, Numac 3/4 to $12 1/2, Pacific Pete 1 to $34 1/4, Home A 3/4 to $34 and Inco 1/4 to $31 1/4.

Imperial Oil rose 1/4 to $29 1/2, Asamera 1/4 to $17 1/4, Consumers' Gas 1/4 to $19 1/4, Rothmans 1/4 to $10 1/4 and Aquitaine 1/4 to $27 1/4.

Falconbridge lost 1/4 to $81 1/2, Bethlehem 1/4 to $18, Ranger 1/4 to $10 1/4 and Hudson Bay Mining 1/4 to $20 1/4.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Prices were mixed in light early trading on the Vancouver Stock Exchange. Volume for the first hour was 154,275 shares.

In the industrials, Cornat Industries was trading at $1.55 with 2,900 shares changing hands.

Ballinderry led trading in the oils, down .01 at $5 on a turnover of 1,500 shares.

In the mines, Columbia River was unchanged at .34 on a trade of 8,047.

MAP MAKING IN KELOWNA

Apart from its many other distinctions, the city has another unique feature with location of the provincial department of agriculture mapping service on Spall Road in the Benvoulin area. Moved from Victoria, the government agency produces maps from aerial photographs for the forestry service, wildlife branch, recreation agencies, soils branches, and other related services. The newly located government branch has already completed soils maps of the Fraser Valley and is currently working on maps of the Okanagan Valley. Displaying a sample of work is mapping draftsman Sergio Bertolami, one of a staff of four employed by the department at the new site. —(Courier photo)

Should Have Categories For Contest C of C Told

A provincial business improvement contest should have categories for public and private buildings, it was suggested Wednesday night.

Speaking at a Kelowna Chamber of Commerce meeting in the Capri Motor Hotel, was James Doak, chairman of the city committee for the Park and Tilford contest. He pointed out the top entry in this region was the Vernon civic centre, and the top one in the province the Victoria centennial square, both constructed with public money.

The contest was started in 1968 in the mainland area. This is the first time it covered the whole province.

Four buildings owned by city taxpayers were among the 17 buildings receiving certificates of merit. They were the city hall, pollution control centre, community theatre and airport terminal building.

The Royal Trust and Mosaic buildings received honorable mention in the regional finals.

"This contest kept the chamber going this summer," reported president R. S. Alexander. He hoped the enthusiasm would continue next year.

CERTIFICATES

Certificates to the Royal Trust Co. and Mosaic Enterprises Ltd. were presented at the provincial awards dinner in Vancouver. City aldermen are officials of both companies — Ald. S. A. Hodge of the first, Ald. Alan Moss of the second. Ald. Hodge received certificates for the four city buildings. William Bird of Vancouver, company public relations supervisor, also presented certificates to the following:

Kelowna Credit Union, P. J. Heyming; Eldorado Arms Hotel, J. D. Hindle; CHBC-TV, Roy Chapman; Four Seasons Motel, Joseph Huber; White Trucks Ltd., G. D. Robinson; Beacon Arms Resort Motel, William Billa; McGavin Toastmaster Ltd., J. R. Donaldson; Kelowna Golf and Country Club, A. B. Moore; Crown Zellerbach container plant, Ray Pascoe; Still Waters Private Hospital, Mrs. Burke; Sugarplum House, E. D. MacLachlan; Spanish Inn, Harold Jackson; and Caravel Motor Inn, Mrs. I. Jenner.

Slides of local entries, and the Vernon civic centre, were shown by Mr. Stevenson.

Jaycees Bid For Congress In Kelowna

The Orchard Park boundary issue was discussed Monday night when Kelowna and District Jaycees met. Speaker was former alderman E. R. Winter.

It is hoped a city representative will attend the next meeting to continue the discussion. Kelowna Chamber of Commerce and city council will hold a public meeting on the matter Oct. 12 in the community theatre. Ratepayers will vote on it Oct. 20.

Also at the Jaycee meeting, it was decided to make a bid for the Okanagan Mainline Jaycee Spring Congress to be in Kelowna. A committee will be struck to extend the invitation at the fall congress in Kamloops.

The district includes clubs in Kelowna, Penticton, Vernon, Salmon Arm and Kamloops. During spring congress, finals are held for public speaking. The winner competes at the provincial convention in Vancouver next May.

Special Program For Fruit Crop

A direct diversion program has been established for the 1971 crop year for McIntosh, Spartan and Golden Delicious apples, the newsletter of the B.C. Tree Fruit Industry has reported.

The objective of the program is to provide a method whereby large size fruit in the three apple varieties can be made available for peelers for Sun-Rype products early in the season when the fruit is in prime condition.

The program is designed to service production for orchards with either light crops or large apples.

According to the newsletter, Sun-Rype is prepared to pay $80 per ton and B.C. Tree Fruits costs will be $8.50 leaving an amount of $72.50 to be paid to the packing house.

The letter suggested growers contact their house for shipper charges on this diversion program.

Coupled with the diversion program announcement, was word that the Sun-Rype plant in Oliver will not operate this season.

The light apple crop situation combined with an all out effort by the industry to reduce costs were cited as the reasons for the move.

All apples from the Kootenays and southern sections of the Okanagan Valley will be trucked to Kelowna for processing in the main plant. It is estimated this operation will total 4,000 to 5,000 tons.

Due to the Oliver closure a change of procedure for windfalls will be necessary. Growers in the Kelowna district may deliver directly to Kelowna.

Growers not residing in this area will deliver to their packing houses where the apples will be weighed, inspected and credits recorded.

Payments to the grower, the report states, will be $25 per ton.

OSPS Strongly Opposes Development On Island

A proposed recreation development on Rattlesnake Island at Squally Point opposite Peachland, has run aground of the Okanagan Mountain Park Committee of the Okanagan Similkameen Parks Society.

At a special meeting Wednesday, the committee went on record as "strongly opposed" to the development by E. A. Haymour, owner of the island and president of Moroccan Shadow Ltd.

In its resolution, the committee states the parks society only recently obtained a park reserve on Okanagan Mountain covering five miles of beach and Wild Horse Canyon for a total of 43 square miles.

The resolution adds, "This type of Coney Island development is completely out of character with a wilderness park concept."

Furthermore, the committee stresses, the island itself, according to the South Okanagan Health Unit, "is unsuitable for any type of sewage disposal."

A health unit spokesman indicated "no sewage disposal of any kind" would be permitted on the island, and a letter from medical health officer, Dr. D. A. Clark, read at the regular meeting of Peachland council last week, stated Mr. Haymour had received no permit from health authorities for "any development on the island."

Mr. Haymour also ran afoul of Peachland city fathers when he tried to build a ferry slip in that community. It is understood the work was stopped by the highways department. Council turned down the proposal emphatically, and the feeling was echoed by the Peachland Chamber of Commerce, which suggested the island be turned over to the Okanagan Similkameen Parks Society.

Although the Okanagan Similkameen Regional District tried to contact Mr. Haymour, who apparently lives at Poplar Point, it is understood the district has no building or zoning control of the island.

There was 0.8 inches of precipitation at the airport Wednesday.

College Offers Welcome Mat To Penticton

School District 15 (Penticton) is "welcome" to join Okanagan College "if they wish to come in," says college principal Dr. R. F. Grant.

He was commenting on a reported desire by the Penticton board to determine if taxpayers there are ready for another referendum on the matter, which was defeated previously by a slim 20 votes.

A long-time supporter of the college, Penticton school trustee, Avery King, said it was "long overdue" that the school district join the college, adding "we are the only school district in the province whose students have to pay university level fees at a university or college."

Dr. Grant said college council's policy on the matter resolved around two points; Penticton was welcome to join the college "if they felt it desirable" and it was not the intent of council to "put pressure" on the Penticton school district to join the college.

"It's entirely up to them," he added.

Funeral Friday For City Woman

Funeral services will be held from the Church of Immaculate Conception, Friday, at 10 a.m. for Mrs. Elizabeth Madeline Folk, 70, of Kelowna, who died Tuesday.

Surviving Mrs. Folk is her husband, Anthony, one son, Robert of Port Moody, one daughter, Mrs. Albert (Eileen) Zwargenberg of Edmonds, Wash., three sisters, Mrs. Madeline Roth of Regina, Mrs. Mary Feibert of Regina, and Mrs. Theresa Young of Kelowna, and two grandchildren. Mrs. Folk was predeceased by her parents, two brothers and one sister.

Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. R. D. Anderson, with interment at Kelowna cemetery. Prayers and Rosary for Mrs. Folk will be recited today at 8 p.m. at the church.

Three Areas Need Pickers

The Canada Manpower Farm Labor Bulletin for the Okanagan and Kootenay District has announced a shortage of apple pickers in the Kelowna, Rutland and Winfield areas.

The report said there was orchard accommodation available at present in these areas where the apple harvest should continue for two to three weeks.

In the Kelowna-Rutland-Winfield areas the peak of the McIntosh apple harvest has passed but apples are still being picked along with grapes and Anjou pears. The spartan harvest is expected to commence this week.

In Oyama, McIntosh apples are almost over, with Anjou pear, spartan and delicious apple harvest expected to begin next week. It is expected there will be an increased demand for help. At present there is almost a balanced labor condition.

Keremeos has a shortage of experienced help in the midst of its red and golden delicious and spartan harvest. The prune harvest is almost complete. There is limited orchard accommodation available.

The golden and red delicious harvest is underway and the grape harvest is progressing satisfactorily in the Osoyoos-Oliver area. As well the can-

Price Hike Of Some Types Possible Alternative Idea

The recent discovery of a serious grape pest in the Okanagan Valley, has prompted members of the British Columbia Grape Marketing Board to consider re-examination of growers' positions and possibly alternative ideas at raising prices of certain exotic types of grapes.

At arbitration meetings earlier this year between wineries and grape growers, one issue was the desire of wineries for more exotic grapes and the belief of growers that the risk involved from different pests plaguing exotic grapes should be compensated for by higher prices.

And now with the threatening presence of grape phylloxera, a serious insect and pest of grapes, in the valley, growers may have a case in point underlining their argument delivered in arbitration earlier this year.

The pest in question was first found in the Okanagan in 1962 and was successfully eradicated at that time. It is most damaging to V. vinifera or European varieties.

"We've terribly concerned that this is going to be a major outbreak," Eden Raikes, chairman of the marketing board, said. "We'll have to make some recommendations to the growers," he added. "We may have to adopt a more militant approach."

Mr. Raikes explained during arbitration earlier this year, growers sought higher prices for the types of exotic grapes that are subject to strange pests. He said Ontario grape growers receive $231 per ton for this type of grape as compensation for the dangerous prevalence of special pests.

British Columbia growers receive $170 per ton for the same grape variety, not enough to compensate for the risk.

"We felt it was a very serious injustice," Mr. Raikes said. "They wanted us to grow the more exotic grapes, yet the wineries weren't prepared to pay higher prices."

"We're going to have to examine our position and take it to the annual meeting in January," he said. "Arbitration didn't produce results and growers here are losing money. We'll have to present alternative ideas to growers."

Mr. Raikes explained the pest in question gets inside the plant and is extremely difficult to eradicate by sprays.

"The best way to destroy it," he said, "is to destroy the vine or vineyard. Unfortunately not only is the man wiped out, but he has to start all over again."

SEEN and HEARD

Four persons have offered themselves as leaders in the Kelowna Junior Forest Wardens, but two more adults are needed. They must love outdoors, be genuinely interested in boys, and be able to attend one meeting a week. The number to call is 762-4678.

Bill Stevenson, manager of Kelowna Chamber of Commerce, had more paper work than he bargained for Wednesday at a general meeting. He laboriously cut a piece of paper into tickets for the door prize.

A local citizen has reported garbage strewn outside the dump located on Glenmore Drive. The citizen explained that the practice of inconsiderate residents leaving garbage outside the closed gates of the dump has occurred before. Garbage has been left outside the dump in this instance for three weeks.

More than 750 Cubs, Scouts and Venturers from the Kootenays, Okanagan and Washington are expected to attend a camporee Oct. 1-3 near Trail.

A reduced speed limit on Highway 97 past Orchard Park was only a temporary measure, a spokesman for the B.C. highways department said today.

On Tuesday, the day the centre was opened, the speed limit during store hours was cut from 45 to 30 miles an hour. Then it was changed back.

The official said the reduction was only because of the volume of traffic expected for the opening, but nobody seemed to pay any attention to it.

The department plans to install lighting at intersections between Burch and Benvoulin roads. A traffic signal will be put at Cooper Road.

No decision has been made on a signal at Benvoulin Road. Because of the curve in the highway and angle of intersections, this is not thought a good place for one.

Because one side of the highway is in the city, the rest in the Regional District of Central Okanagan, the city and department will split the cost.

Delay Paying Parking Ticket Could Be Costly

Better pay that $2.50 overtime parking ticket promptly or the violation will cost you $7.

A directive from director of finance, H. K. Hall states that beginning Friday, overtime parking offences will cost the motorist an added tax of $4.50 if that traffic offence is not paid within three days.

Although the traffic ticket issued under the new procedure will indicate a $7 voluntary penalty, a notice on the ticket indicates payment of $2.50 within three days will be accepted as full payment. The administrative change was necessitated, says Mr. Hall, as a result of increasing costs of collection enforcement.

The same system will apply to other offences under the traffic regulations bylaw, some of which carry voluntary penalty amounts.

The old system of permitting payment of a voluntary penalty after the issuance of a summons but prior to court appearance will no longer apply. Court appearance following receipt of a summons "will be mandatory," the city directive states.

HOMEMAKER SERVICE

Another Agency Of Chest

This is another in a series of articles on member agencies of the Central Okanagan Community Chest which is currently campaigning for $69,000 in aid of 18 local agencies.

The Homemaker Service, an agency of the Community Chest, is completing another very busy year. With the ever expanding population in Kelowna and the surrounding districts, this service is being called upon more frequently and more widely than in past years.

You might ask, "Just what does the Homemaker Service do?" Briefly, it is a service which provides a substitute mother in a home when the real mother is ill or away due to illness. Knowing that her children are being well cared for helps in no small measure, the recovery of a mother in hospital. It is a service to the elderly, by giving assistance because of general disability or before and after a stay in hospital. This enables our elderly citizens to remain a little longer in their own homes amid familiar surroundings. It is also a service to fatherless homes where mother may be so discouraged with home responsibilities that she doesn't know how to cope with them.

The support given by the homemaker in cases such as these, takes the form of budgeting the monthly allowance, economical marketing, improved household skills, stretching the clothing allowance by knowledge of sewing methods and adequate and proper nutrition for the growing children.

The homemaker service is administered through the city welfare administrator, Tom Hamilton, at the City Hall, with Mrs. Burl Voysey as supervisor. A telephone call to either provides a worker within a few hours. The women who serve as homemakers are carefully chosen for their homemaking skills and ability to get along with people. Their aim is to help maintain a normal family life in time of difficulty.

This service is financed through the Community Chest, and fees from families who pay what their income will allow. No family is denied this service because of inability to pay. Their allotment this year is $2,600.

Support this agency through your United Appeal.

Pollution Control Centre Given Approval For Study

City council has given final approval to a pilot project using lime to remove phosphorus from sewage at the pollution control centre. The study will be carried out by a University of B.C. team as part of the joint federal-provincial study of the Okanagan Water Basin.

The city was chosen because it has one of the few incinerators in Canada to burn lime sludge, reports city engineer Vince Berch.

Council agreed to participate if there is a guarantee of no damage to city facilities, and costs resulting from experiments not working are paid by the project.

The study will last about six months, reports Dr. W. K. Oldham, UBC assistant civil engineer, professional, who will be in charge of it. A lime treatment plant will be constructed. Sludge will be put through the incinerator when there is enough to operate it for an hour—possibly every 10 days.

Dr. Oldham said the study would pay for any excessive maintenance costs due to the quality of lime sludge in the incinerator, and the city could ask for payment if an operator is required for an average of more than three hours a week due to maintenance problems attributable to the study. If any equipment has to be replaced, the study will pay the portion directly attributable to operating the plant.

No decision has been made on what happens to the equipment after the study. If it is not required at the centre, the equipment will be removed.

IN COURT TODAY

A man who described himself as an alcoholic and an epileptic was given 60 days in jail today by Justice of the Peace George Phillips in provincial court.

August Vincent, listed as having no fixed address, pleaded guilty Wednesday to theft of goods valued at less than $50. Police said he has an extensive record.

"I don't think sending you to jail will do any good, but we have no alternative," said Mr. Phillips. "At least you will be sober for 60 days."

"Guilty," chorused two young women charged with public mischief. Joan Visser and Marlene Chumil of Kelowna were each fined $50, and told they could have been sent to jail for five years.

They told police Saturday night a car owned by Miss Visser's father was damaged by a vehicle which did not stop in the city, then admitted about $400 damage was done when the car went out of control while they were returning from Vernon, and hit a bank.

Parking his car Sept. 4 on a road near Revelstoke which is restricted to fire vehicles cost William Thomas Parkin of Kelowna $25. He pleaded guilty.

Michael B. McGuire of Kelowna was fined $10 on each of two charges of overtime parking, and one of failing to display a municipal commercial licence plate. He pleaded guilty through his wife.

He added returns of the drive so far have been "very promising," with more than $1,000 collected even though the campaign is in its infancy.

The South Pandosy area, under captain William Pennell, had already beat its canvass record last year, Mr. Dyck said.

A two-day residential blitz in city and district is scheduled Oct. 4 and 5 as the main canvass toward this year's goal of $69,000 in aid of 18 local member agencies who are participating in the drive.

Mr. Dyck has expressed the desire to have the campaign completed by Oct. 9, and urges residents to remember this year's theme, "If you don't do it, it won't get done."

Chest Appeal 'Going Well'

The Central Okanagan Community Chest campaign, which began Monday in the commercial, industrial and professional divisions, is "going very well," says campaign chairman John Dyck.

He added returns of the drive so far have been "very promising," with more than $1,000 collected even though the campaign is in its infancy.

Pattern For Settling Money Crisis Emerging

A pattern for settlement of the world trade and money crisis began to emerge Tuesday when Canada and other major countries addressed the annual meeting of the 118-nation International Monetary Fund.

A news report from Washington said it would involve repegging the exchange rates of important currencies to a modified form of so-called "paper gold," instituted by the IMF two years ago, and dethroning the United States dollar as the principal fiscal base for world trade. The plan also would allow some greater margin of exchange-rate flexibility than did the old IMF rules.

Finance Minister E. J. Benson, the first of the major speakers, said Canada is "getting more than our share of the trouble" from the new 10-per-cent United States levy on dutiable imports and uncertainty in upward-floating exchange rates.

He was not specific in what Canada proposes the world should do. But Britain's chancellor of the Exchequer, Anthony Barber, proposed a specific plan, and it appeared to be endorsed with only few reservations by the finance ministers of France, Italy and Japan.

The IMF instituted a system of Special Drawing Rights two years ago—called SDRs—which are nominally tied to gold at an official value of $35 an ounce. This makes them the same value as the U.S. dollar before President Nixon suspended gold sales at that price Aug. 15.

Barber suggested that SDRs replace U.S. dollars in the foreign exchange reserves of most countries, and that world currencies be quoted in relation to SDRs, rather U.S. dollars.

Barber spoke immediately after Benson addressed the 1,200 delegates, observers and guests of the IMF. But Benson's speech indicated Canada would fall in with the British proposal.

Certainly, Benson said, modifications are needed in the old IMF arrangements for stabilizing currencies, based on U.S. dollars worth 1-35th of an ounce of gold, and these will be worked out by negotiations within the Group of Ten countries that lead the world in trade and money affairs.

The 10 are Britain, Canada, the U.S., Japan and Sweden and five members of the European Common Market—France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium and The Netherlands.

"There will no doubt be changes in the roles of the various international reserve assets, and in the arrangements governing their inter-convertibility," Benson said.

International reserve assets now include U.S. dollars, SDRs, gold and other convertible currencies such as sterling, French francs, and West German marks.

"There will likely be changes in the form in which parities are expressed, and some greater flexibility in exchange rates," Benson said.

Under the old IMF rules, currencies were permitted to fluctuate in day-to-day trading within a band of one per cent above and below their declared par values. This band might be widened, in the view of many IMF delegates, to three or five per cent.

Valery Giscard d'Estaing, France's minister of economy and finance, sharpened the proposal, saying all currencies including specifically the U.S. dollar need to be realigned and wider fluctuation margins might be permitted, "at any rate for a certain period."

He came down heavily on the side of the U.S. purposely devaluing the American dollar, something the U.S. is reluctant to do.

If all other currencies have to be set higher, he said, it means that producers of farm products and raw materials will get less for their efforts. Devaluing the U.S. dollar by raising the price of gold would mean the burden is shared by both the producer and the consumer—the latter being, in large part, the United States shopper.

Giscard d'Estaing called for quick action. This meeting he said should not be just "a torrent of verbiage" but should produce concrete results.

This is unlikely to happen, though. Benson earlier announced that the 10 leading countries would send experts to a meeting in Paris next month to discuss ways out of the problem, and the finance ministers would probably meet again in November before concrete results would be achieved.

Changes In Prison Laws

(Galt Reporter)

Federal prison authorities have ordered an end to prisoner mail censorship, relaxed visiting rules to emphasize family ties and allowed for some individuality in prisoner's clothes. The changes are enlightened and humane. And they should help many imprisoned people on the road to rehabilitation without weakening the prison system.

When men and women go to prison, after their guilt has been established beyond any reasonable doubt, they lose their rights as citizens but they remain human beings even though some act like animals.

They are imprisoned and deprived of their citizen's rights as punishment, as a means of protecting society, or both. The prison rule changes will not alter the prisons' effectiveness in achieving those purposes.

But allowing a man to choose the color of his clothing, and—the most important—see his family frequently would help sustain his awareness of the fact that he is a human being, a point that diminishes in a prison's mechanical milieu.

Society may view the prisoner without sympathy. After all, he's in jail because he inflicted some harm on others; he didn't hold up his responsibility to the community so the community put him out of the way for a while.

But society has to concern itself with his return (and nearly all of the men and women who go to prison do return). Will he be prepared to contribute to the community or will he hurt it again?

Prison can either help rehabilitate and reform or it can antagonize and embitter. Only a vegetable could spend two years or more in a federal prison without being affected one way or the other.

There's little question that slightly but importantly enlarged scope for individuality will help prisoners toward the positive alternative. Encouragement of family contacts should help even more.

Men who still can regard themselves as human beings, who have self-confidence and optimism nurtured in regular family visits, are far better equipped to take up a normal useful life after a prison term than those who find themselves lost, unwanted, unprepared for an existence that demands personal initiative and responsibility, in a world totally alien to them.

Prisons are prisons and they have a job to do. Changes that help rehabilitate society's failures without undermining the basic requirements of punishment and security should help them do their job better—for the community as well as for the inmates.

Pompidou And Trudeau Run Drive To Protect French

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Trudeau and President Georges Pompidou of France have been running an uncoordinated campaign to protect the French language.

Mr. Trudeau appealed recently to the senior management of big business in Quebec to recruit and promote more young Francophones.

"Unless a firm resolve is coupled with a specific policy in this respect, the social and economic consequences of a long-standing injustice will worsen in Quebec," Mr. Trudeau said.

French-Canadian participation in business and industry in Quebec was scandalously disproportionate to the number of Francophones in the province.

Mr. Pompidou, who is expected to visit Mr. Trudeau to Paris for an official visit after the election expected next year, has been saying that French should remain the working language of the European Common Market if and when Britain joins the group.

Earlier this year, Mr. Pompidou gave an interview in which he discussed at some length the status of the French language.

The interview was not widely circulated, but it has relevance to Canada and the French embassy on request has supplied a full text in the original French, and an English translation.

Mr. Pompidou said in part: "Today English has two great advantages: its capacity to create words and, even more, abbreviations.

"It is more easily adapted than French to the rapid evolution of techniques and modern means of information. Especially it has the benefit of the enormous American support and the world influence of the United States.

"French remains an exceptional language of culture. Its very difficulty, its rigor, makes it an incomparable instrument to maintain logic in reasoning, lucidity in thinking.

"It is natural that peoples of French expression feel, over and above their economic and even their political interests, unified by a special link that is intellectual and also sentimental.

"One could have imagined at the end of the Second World War that English, or rather, American, would become the language vehicle of the West. And in this respect Francophone is also an effort to resist assimilation and a uniformity.

"I do not claim that Europe must be French, or that she must speak French. I do say that tomorrow, with Britain in the Common Market—which I believe probable—if it happens that French does not remain the first working language of Europe, then Europe will never be completely European because English is no longer solely the language of the English.

"It is first of all, for the entire world, the language of America. And Europe will not be Europe if she is not distinct from America.

"The French language is a link among all those who speak it and it can also be one of the means by which Western Europe may strengthen her personality vis-a-vis the United States."

THE BOOK CORNER

By R. J. ANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The Canadian Pacific Railway has been called, among other things, the "sublime audacity." Without it, many historians agree, there would be no Canada today.

Pierre Berton, the master story-teller and reporter, holds no brief for the CPR as he picks up in The Last Spike where he left off in The National Dream, his absorbing history of the period when the company was conceived, of its birth and its first troubled years. That this fledgling in a later century would become the world's largest transportation system was such a ridiculous idea that no one thought of it.

The authoritative two-volume history is the story not so much of a corporation but of a new nation seeking, almost against its will, to become united. And it is the story of determined men.

It seemed, in The National Dream, that not even Berton could drain more of the drama, the passions, the pathos, the heroics and the petty selfishness of little men out of the era when the railway was king and Canada was moving from colonial status to nationhood. But he does. Such an era, and such men, are unlikely to be seen again.

Still, the definitive history of the CPR's infancy has yet to be written. Not everything in the company's archives was opened to Berton and to this he takes exception.

ERA TURBULENT

"The CPR did not open all of its files to us," Berton writes. "The reason given to me was that it would not be in the public interest to make such documents (the Van Horne letters) available. With that attitude, of course, I must vigorously disagree.

"Anything that has to do with the beginnings of Canada's first transcontinental railway is in the public interest. After all, that is what these books have been about."

Even so, surely, there cannot be much left untold. Berton, as deftly as he dissects contemporary topics and subjects on his television shows, puts his scalpel to the infant company and to the men who made it. Some emerge from surgery not the shining knights as they are depicted in not a few biographies and histories in the last 90 years.

In last year's Dream—the books are inseparable—one should not be read without the other Berton dealt with the sordid political wrangling and the scandals of the decade 1871-81 when the idea of a national railway took form. He had a hero, Sir John A. Macdonald, with all his weaknesses and foibles, and he has a hero this time, too, William Van Horne, as he moves on to the construction period, so turbulent that it seems almost incredible in the telling.

Two thousand miles of steel was forged across half a continent in five years, half the time stipulated in the contract; a feat the world had never seen before nor has it seen since. Many times below the last spike was driven at Craigellachie, B.C., the company almost foundered—at one time only an hour stood between it and ruin.

Here is the unsavory story of the Winnipeg land boom of 1881-82, when millions were made and lost in a day. The Florida boom a half-century later seems trivial compared with Winnipeg of 1881 when land values at Portage and Main rose from almost nothing to $2,000 a front foot. In 1970, Portage and Main property sold for less than $2,000 a foot.

Here are the well-documented stories of the founding of Brandon in Manitoba, of Regina and other western towns and cities when public figures lined their pockets on the basis of having inside information on station locations.

Here, too, are the stories of 7,000 Chinese falling in the mountain canyons of British Columbia, of Van Horne rushing 3,000 soldiers over a half-finished railway to quell the Riel rebellion, of the U.S. Confederate general, Thomas Rosser, who dictated the site of Brandon, of the constant battle against American financial domination. . . . There are a thousand such epic tales, pinned solidly to sources.

"These strong-willed men, in an office in St. Paul, Minn., shaped Canada's destiny when, in an hour's discussion, they decided that the Canadian Pacific would take the southern route across the prairies, contrary to government policy.

A decade of work, bitter argument, millions of dollars and the lives of 40 surveyors earlier and placed the route from Winnipeg through the fertile north where some settlement existed.

HURDLES SURMOUNTED

The CPR threw it all away, deciding to drive straight west to the mountain barriers of the Rockies and the Selkirk. No passable path through the Selkirk had been discovered at the time.

Berton writes: "It undoubtedly occurred to the railway company that it would be easier to control an area that had never known a settler and where there was no established business interest of any kind. Why should the road increase the value of other men's property? Why should the CPR become involved in intercommunal warfare between rival settlements?"

In the end, all hurdles, natural and man-made, were surmounted. The line was driven through the mountains and across inhospitable northwestern Ontario. Canada became a nation, linked by a thin ribbon of steel from sea to sea.

A first printing of 65,000 copies, believed to be the largest ever for a Canadian book, was ordered and The Last Spike was badly in the stands when it made No. 1 on the best-seller lists where The National Dream has been high for the last year.

CANADA'S STORY
Engine Breakdown Led To Airplane

By BOB BOWMAN

Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone at Brantford, Ont., and Boston, Mass. He said years later that the telephone was conceived at Brantford in 1874 and born in Boston in 1876. However, Mr. and Mrs. Bell's favorite place in all the world was the Cape Breton village of Baddeck, and it is there that their bodies rest on a high hill near the Bell Memorial Museum.

They found Baddeck by accident. One summer they went on a cruise to Newfoundland to get away from the heat of Washington, but their ship developed engine trouble and put into Baddeck for repairs. While there, Bell strolled through town and visited the newspaper office. The editor was alone and was trying to make a call on his newly-installed telephone. It wouldn't work and he complained to his visitor (not knowing who he was) that there wasn't anyone nearer than Halifax who could fix it.

Bell asked to examine the phone, took the mouthpiece apart, removed a dead fly, and the phone worked perfectly. Then he introduced himself and that was the beginning of a great friendship. The result was that Mr. and Mrs. Bell built a summer home at Baddeck. They enjoyed it so much that they often visited it in the winter as well. It was there that the first airplane in the British Commonwealth was flown, on Feb. 23, 1909.

When the Bells were at Baddeck in 1893, one of their guests was Prof. Samuel Langley—who had been following the experiments of Wilbur and Orville Wright. Bell predicted that men would fly within 10 years and was ridiculed by fellow scientists who told him to avoid making such statements or he would ruin his reputation.

Bell soon began experimenting with kites and got models soaring 200 feet in the air by "rocket propulsion"—the forerunner of the power that sends men to the moon today.

On Sept. 30, 1907, his wife gave him $20,000 to form the Aerial Experimental Association and he was able to engage young engineers, J. D. McCurdy, Casey Baldwin, Glen Curtiss and Thomas Selfridge to help him. It was this group who designed the Silver Dart that flew in 1909 and played such a big part in the development of aviation.

Other Sept. 30 events:

1749 — Indians massacred settlers at Dartmouth, N.S.

1870 — Railway opened between Ottawa and Carleton Place.

1953 — McGill announced development of North American radar defence system.

1955 — Geological survey of Canadian Arctic was completed.

At Four Months Baby Refuses To Give Up

WESTMINSTER, Calif. (AP) — At age four months, Ty White has survived more ailments than an adult is likely to suffer in a lifetime.

"There is such a thing as a psychological will to live in some tiny infants," says Ty's pediatrician, Dr. Selden C. Beebe.

The youngster was helped by his mother, Pat White, 16 doctors and a platoon of nurses.

Mrs. White had suffered three miscarriages, and Ty was born by Caesarian section in her sixth month of pregnancy, a three-pound two-ounce incubator resident with a slim chance of life.

From the first cry, Ty had trouble breathing. His weight dropped below three pounds, and he was suffering from diarrhea. Radiology tests revealed that Ty had a form of colitis—an inflammation of the intestines and colon, from which only one of 10 babies survives, doctors say.

The physicians discovered Ty had another problem, with a 90-per-cent fatality rate—an inability to produce the blood-clotting agents, platelets.

Exploratory surgery was performed to determine the source of the colitis, and Dr. Visut Kanchanapoom noticed a hernia and repaired it.

GRANDPA GIVES BLOOD

Despite a continued loss of platelets, preventing healing of the surgical incisions, two more operations had to be performed. Within six weeks Ty received 40 transfusions, 16 of them supplied from the blood of his paternal grandfather, Frank White Sr.

The boy's weight dropped to 2 1/2 pounds despite intravenous feedings. Doctors threaded a tube through a large vein in his neck into a blood vessel near his heart and funnelled through it life-sustaining amino acids, vitamins and large molecules of food.

Ty started to gain weight in his second month of life, but then developed pneumonia. As antibiotics and draining of the lungs were curing that, a block was discovered in the tube in his neck, withholding nourishment.

Another operation removed the tube and doctors inserted a replacement in the other side of his neck.

Mrs. White, a 28-year-old school teacher, stood by, speaking to her son, getting him to giggle, playing music for him.

"Pat did a remarkable job," said Dr. Beebe. "She personally did more than any medication known to man."

In late August, Ty began to respond; He began producing his own platelets; his incisions began to heal; and his intestinal problem began to improve to the point where he could be fed by mouth—a tremendous step.

By Labor Day, his weight reached four pounds two ounces. On his fourth-month birthday, he was a bouncy, bubbly five-pounder. Pat took Ty home Thursday.

Sound Idea For Farmers

SASKATOON (CP) — What happens to a farm-based economy when the provincial government allows struggling farmers to forget about many of their major debts for 12 months?

All the right things, exactly what the government intended, Attorney-General Roy Romanow of Saskatchewan said here.

Many of the wrong things such as a tightening of credit and a temporary reprieve that effects mostly the unreliable debtors, say implement dealers and credit union managers.

Spokesmen for organizations representing the farmers say the debt moratorium may not have created much response at all among their members.

The legislation in question, called the Family Farm Protection Act, was passed in August as one of the first actions of the newly-elected New Democratic Party government of Saskatchewan. It allows farmers to delay payment of debts on machinery, land and livestock until August 1, 1972, if they are having trouble meeting their payments.

BIBLE BRIEF

"For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost." Luke 19:10.

Jesus came not only to find us but to free us. . . . and whom the Son sets free is free indeed." Give Him a home in your troubled heart, and let Him set everything in order.

Their attitude is that it's fun to make your friends smile at your threads. About two years ago young people in some cities started wearing old clothes from army surplus stores. It was the thing to look poor and, besides, the clothes were comfortable. Now wearing secondhand clothing from the Victorian era to the 1940s is being done consciously as a beautiful thing. Evening dresses from the 30s and daytime clothes from the 1940s are the most popular right now.

Male Chef Enters 'Cook' Contest

Although entries in the annual Cook Book issue are slowly dribbling in, one brave male chef has answered the challenge and his recipe for a sparerib special is worth trying.

Two entries in the new category, wild game or fowl, have also been received and they too, sound like winners. But come on all you hunters, you must have a special recipe for cooking venison or pheasants.

Remember the Oct. 16 deadline for entries is not too far away. There are four categories for individual cooks, best apple, best grape or cherry, best wild game or fowl and best foreign or gourmet dish.

The fifth category for clubs, is an easy way to earn $20 for your pet project. If 10 members get busy and type up the recipes from the whole club, it could be completed in one or two nights. Why not make it a fun thing, those who don't type could serve coffee and dessert some night for the typists who will be admitted only if they have their X numbers of recipes typed up.

Recipes must be typed on one side of the paper only and name and address must be included. In case of clubs, full name of club with initials and name of member submitting recipe must be included.

Prime Concerns Of Consumer Still Prices And Practices

Today's Consumers' Association has its origin in the time of the Second World War, when, in 1941 women's organizations from all parts of Canada were asked by the federal government to help maintain price ceilings that were vital for a successful war effort.

Their noteworthy success and their effective co-operation with the Wartime Prices and Trade Board brought about an increasing consciousness of the need for a permanent consumer organization. After a series of organizational meetings, consultations and conferences, the Canadian Association of Consumers came into being in 1947. Its purpose was "to develop a more enlightened opinion on economic affairs and consumer interests, and to express this opinion in such a way as to benefit the home, the community and the nation."

Oddly enough the first concern of the association was the rising cost of living, a concern which has never diminished through the association's 23 years.

As the nation's economy expanded so did the problems facing the consumer. What were simple matters of holding the price line became complicated matters involving distribution, packaging, advertising and related subjects.

The association became a bridge between the buying consumer and the manufacturer on the one hand and the consumer and government on the other. As problems grew, the association expanded, with provincial and local associations coming into being.

In 1962 the association was incorporated under the Companies Act as the Consumer Association of Canada—its official name today.

Through the years, CAC has made a point of being reliable in its statements, thorough in its investigations and scrupulously impartial. Through the years, too, CAC attracted a wider range of members and today more than one-fifth of its members are men. Many industrial associations and manufacturers keep in close touch with CAC.

CAC membership of more than 23,000 today is hardly a fair mathematical indication of its influence, as for every member there is an average Canadian family and a circle of neighbors and friends who benefit from the association's work.

The association's bi-monthly magazine, Canadian Consumer, is unique in Canada and the consumer information field, providing Canadian information to assist consumers to make selections and knowledgeable decisions.

Most libraries and an increasing number of elementary and high schools now take Canadian Consumer. Considering family and neighbor readership, use in schools and library reference use it has been estimated the magazine is read by at least half a million Canadians.

ORGANIZING HERE
As the modern marketplace increased in complexity, CAC felt it was necessary to broaden its base and role of providing consumer information. Hence several new membership classifications were introduced including student memberships, bulk subscriptions and educational bulk subscriptions.

Since it was formed it has brought about changes in labelling of drugs, household chemicals, children's clothing, fabrics and foods, as well as being instrumental in the introduction of consumer protective legislation.

In Kelowna there are 150 members. The feasibility of forming a local branch will be discussed Sunday at an open meeting starting at 2 p.m. in the library board room. If a branch is formed, the local group would be able to work closely with businesses here and also assist consumers with complaints. Residents interested in membership or forming a group will be welcome.

Recent visitors with Mrs. Clara Swanson and family of Kelowna were her mother, Mrs. Justina Rempel and her brothers, Jeff and Alfred and her sister Donna all from Vancouver. The visitors spirits were not dampened by the rainy weather and they enjoyed their holiday in the Okanagan regardless.

Among Kelowna musicians attending the Symphony Cabaret in Vernon on Sunday at 8 p.m. are Alan Lorne, Brian Tatchell and Jon Warner, all members of the Okanagan Symphony. One Hundred Years of Music is the theme for the event which will be held in the community centre gymnasium. Musical entertainment will be programmed along with the wine and cheese hour and door prizes will be given away.

Mrs. Vladimir Andreev of De Hart Road arrives home today from a month-long holiday in England where she visited friends. She also toured several countries on the continent during her holiday.

Back from a wonderful holiday in Las Vegas are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Leslie Real of Okanagan Mission and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bowman, who were accompanied by Mrs. David Allan who stopped off at Vancouver en route home. The five took part in the regional bridge tournament at Las Vegas and were thrilled with the opportunity of meeting the top bridge players of the United States, including many well known writers on the topic. At times there were 1,000 players participating in the air-conditioned hall. The temperature outside hovered at the 100 plus. The day they arrived at the airport it was 114 degrees.

Fun This Fall Series Start This Saturday

Fun This Fall is the theme of the series of six programs scheduled for young library members, ages six to 10 years, which start on Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

The series which includes four film sessions and two puppet shows will be shown on six consecutive Saturdays with the last on Dec. 11.

Since seats in the National Film Board auditorium in the new federal building on Queensway are limited, admission will be by tickets obtainable at the library during the week before the show. Library membership is free.

The shows are being sponsored by the Kelowna Library and the National Film Board.

Family Group Entertain Elderly

A program Sunday afternoon by members of the Christian Alliance Church was much enjoyed by residents of the David Lloyd-Jones home on Bernard Avenue.

Two choir numbers, In the Garden and It's A Glory Just to Walk With Him, with pianist Mrs. Van Holmeyer were followed by several numbers by the Czerwinski family. The clear sweet voices of the children brought pleasure to the listeners and Mr. and Mrs. Czerwinski sang a duet.

Two hymns were sung, What A Friend and Rock of Ages. A solo It Takes a Miracle by Stan Welwood and a short address by Tom Koop rounded out the program which closed with prayer.

ANN LANDERS

Mother Disapproves Of Old Tutor Idea

It's A Blazer Season Ahead In Wild Variety Of Fabrics

Dear Ann Landers: Your ridiculous answer to the mother whose 18-year-old son was getting "experience" from the 35-year-old lady next door leads me to believe that someone threw a cherry bomb in your crib on July 4, 1917 and caused permanent brain damage.

You said to make sure the boy was "plenty well informed." It seems to me that he is already too well informed. What he needs is a severe tongue lashing from his father—not more information. As for that wrench next door, she should be horse-whipped within an inch of her life. And you, Ann Landers, should be boiled in oil for your ho-hum attitude toward the boy's immoral behavior.—Mother of Five

Dear Mother: Ho-hum, my Aunt Ethel, I'm realistic, and I hope you'll join the real world soon, for the sake of your five kids. An 18-year-old boy who is jumping around next door with a middle-aged wife of a tired businessman is not about to give it up and go back to Sorbo just because his father gives him a scolding.

I told the mother to make sure the boy gets a tough lecture from his dad on the moral and social aspects of his behavior and to make certain he is well informed on the biological aspects as well. That was good, practical advice and I stand behind it. No matter what you think, Mother, you just can't keep 'em down on the farm after they've seen Paree.

Dear Ann Landers: You've never had a problem like this one. I hope you'll know what to do with it.

I left the states two years ago to work overseas in construction. I said goodbye to a great looking doll I had dated all through high school. We were not engaged because I didn't think it would be fair to her, but Sybil said she'd wait for me. Not a week went by that I didn't get at least three letters from Sybil, usually four. I kept asking for snapshots but she stopped sending them about 18 months ago. Now I know why.

I got home yesterday and there she was—all 170 pounds of her. My sis and mom had written that Syb was putting on a lot of weight but I thought they were exaggerating. I was so shocked when I saw her. I couldn't speak. Her first words were, "I'll diet." We had a long talk and she told me she had eaten herself into blimp-hood because she was lonesome. I feel awfully guilty, but I must admit this chick leaves me cold. I hate fat women. Would it be lousy of me if I told Syb to call me when she drops the 50 pounds she put on in my absence?—Too Much To Love

Dear T.M.: If you dump her she might gain another 50. Urge Syb to see a doctor and get back in shape. If she sticks with her diet, fine. If she can't, with an incentive like this—well, she's a compulsive eater, destined to be broad where a broad shouldn't be broad. I would not tell a man who hates fat women to stick around just to be a nice guy. It wouldn't work.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 10 years old and am trying to learn the facts of life as I go along. My mother still thinks I believe she bought me in the hospital. She refuses to answer questions. Please tell me if they kiss different in France. Is this what is meant by French kissing? Thank you.—Self-Learner

Dear Learner: So far as I know, kissing in France is the same as everywhere else. French kissing is soul kissing or kissing between people who have romantic feelings for each other—not relatives.

Dear Ann Landers: What is the socially accepted procedure when dining in a first class restaurant and the steak is tough, the chicken is raw, or the soup is cold? Should one complain to the waiter or manager? Or is it best to be quiet about it and simply not return?—Minus $20.

Dear $20: It is not necessary to complain to the manager. The waiter should be happy to bring you another steak or put your chicken back in the oven or reheat your soup. To sit in silence and not return would be an injustice to the restaurant. Give them a chance to get things right.

NEW YORK (CP) — Fall '71 will probably go down in fashion history as the blazer season.

Blazers dominated most of the collections. Many were in the traditional double-breasted style worn by cricketers and by pupils in England's public schools. It stands for the Establishment. Its return will be a counterbalance to the way-out kooky costume party that has passed as fashion in the last few years.

Of course, there are modifications to the blazer look. Some have broadened shoulders; others have shaped waistlines.

But the blazer is back, a forerunner of the return of the well-dressed, more mature woman. She won't have to compete with her daughter this fall.

Blazers were seen in every fabric from wool and satin to suede and fake fur. They topped matching and contrast skirts with knit tops or shirts.

Adele Simpson combined two of fall's top fashions in one blazer outfit, using the new carpet or rug pattern in a velvet blazer over a matte jersey dress, one of fall's most popular fabrics. Another of her blazers, in a bright red wool, was teamed with a red-and-plum checked knee-length dress.

Checks and plaids appeared with blazers in many collections, in both knee length and long dresses. Often the skirts were pleated.

FOR DAYTIME

Black blazers topped Anne Klein's green-plaid dress and Suzy Perette's red-edged style that matched the dress underneath. Pat Sandler used blazer red for a blazer worn over a red-ribbed sweater top and pleated skirt. Kimberly even introduced red-knit blazers to top a black-and-white tweed skirt with skinny sweater top and also a black-ribbed dress. He also elongated the blazer into a coat, in a black-and-white houndstooth check.

This blazer coat look also was found in several collections. Calvin Klein showed it in knee-length weather-treated black velvet and also in grey flannel worn over matching pleated skirt, with grey-suede boots.

Klein is fond of blazers. One suede style barely topped short green pants. To the outfit was added a red knit turtleneck sweater, one of the new light-knit caps pulled close around the face, and plaid socks. He also showed a mock broadtail blazer and wrap skirt. And there was a fitted little double-breasted blazer in a quilted print worn over smooth warm pants, by La Plaque de Paris, a division of Cuddelcoat.

In Canada, Miss Sun Valley included a blazer in a co-ordinated wool group in a diamond pattern with chevron pockets. The other items were hot pants, knickers, skirt and long pants.

FOR EVENING

Gino Charles likes a pale pink-and-black tapestry blazer over a knee-length, waist-cinched black chiffon dress. Morton Myles, designer for Malcolm Charles, combined a velvet blazer and shorts, studded with gold stars and worn with a gold sweater. Sequins are back in fashion and Charles introduced a red sequin blazer worn over low-cut dress in wool crepe. In Jerry Silverman's collection, a white satin blazer tops both a short and long-matching and slit-front dress. And for casual evening elegance, Bill Blass likes an ankle-length plaid dress with a red velvet blazer.

'The West, A Nest And You' Playing For Penticton Hospital Auxiliary 'Do'

Mart Kenney and his dance band from Vancouver will play dancers reminisce the past 25 years at the 25th anniversary ball of the Junior Hospital Auxiliary of the Penticton General Hospital.

The silver anniversary ball, open to all Valley residents, begins with refreshments at 6 p.m. and a prime rib roast dinner at 7 p.m. in the Penticton Peach Bowl on Oct. 23.

All past presidents of the auxiliary will be present for the gala event which will be formal or semi-formal.

In Penticton, as in Kelowna and other Valley points, planning and programming fund raising projects consume a good deal of the time and energy of the members of auxiliaries. If all equipment donated to Valley hospitals by auxiliaries were stacked in one huge pile, it would probably build a good sized mountain.

Proceeds of the ball will be used to purchase equipment for the intensive care unit of the Penticton General Hospital. Tickets may be purchased by phoning 492-6900.

Great Grain Debate Heads Toward Crunch

OTTAWA (CP) — The grain debate moved toward a crunch in the Commons Wednesday as increased opposition pressure with legal arguments from Justice Minister John Turner.

The day after Prime Minister Trudeau accused the opposition of trying to block justice with legalism, Mr. Turner said the government's position on the Temporary Wheat Reserves Act was not illegal at all.

JOHN TURNER
... legal views

The opposition continued its claim that the government is using a flagrant breach of the law to jam through legislation. Prairie farmers don't want.

The Progressive Conservatives moved two motions to adjourn debate in the House but the Liberals defeated both hands.

The issue: The reserves act, which pays storage cost of wheat in commercial stockpiles over 178 million bushels, is still legally in force, but the government has not made payments called for under the act for the 1970-71 crop year.

ACT AWAITS APPROVAL

The government's grain income stabilization bill would have replaced the Reserves Act last spring had it been passed by Parliament.

But it wasn't, and the opposition, claiming it has the support of western farmers, has continued to fight the bill since the House resumed sitting a month ago.

Until Tuesday the government was writing the debate off as a simple question of economics: Did the western farmers want the $62 million they were owed under the Reserves Act or the $100-odd million they would receive under the stabilization bill.

Mr. Trudeau told reporters Tuesday that opposition legalism was holding up the justice he was trying to get for the farmers through the increased revenues under the new act. He admitted that the government has defaulted on payments.

Mr. Turner continued that tack in the Commons Wednesday, then switched to a legal argument when speaking to reporters outside.

Opposition Leader Robert Stanfield asked Mr. Turner whether he had "advised the government... that it is obliged by the law of Canada to comply with the statutes on the books" and whether he intended to "dissociate himself from the government which is not complying with the law."

QUESTION IGNORED

Mr. Turner ignored the legal question and said: "The question which farmers in Saskatchewan are asking is why this Parliament is not passing the bill."

Pressed further by Mr. Stanfield, Mr. Turner said the government recognized it owed western farmers $38.5 million—apparently a confusion with the $62 million figure—but "we are suggesting that payment of $100 million should satisfy that."

Mr. Turner later told reporters that while the government admitted it was in default, that did not mean it was breaking the law.

"A debt can be satisfied at any time. That is a matter of law."

But as Mr. Trudeau had said, if Parliament would not allow the government to satisfy the debt with its proposed bill, then the government would give up and revert to the Reserves Act. Conservative Justice critic Eldon Woolliams said outside the House the justice minister should resign. There is no doubt that the government is breaking the law, he said.

VOTES AT STAKE

At stake are western votes, where the Liberals are weak. There will be a federal byelection in Assiniboia Nov. 8.

But more significant appear to be questions of principle. The opposition is trying to convince the electorate the government will go to any lengths to get its own way—including breaking the law.

In private, at least two Liberals admit that, legally at least, the government is in the wrong. One government MP said bluntly: "Legally they've got us. But it's a political issue."

But he also said opposition parties had drawn the government into the legal breach in the agriculture committee last June, when they all but assured the government the stabilization bill would receive hasty passage when it returned to the House in September.

An official from a cabinet minister's office agreed the opposition was legally correct. The government, he said, had taken bad advice from the bureaucracy.

TWO MOTIONS DEFEATED

The opposition has selected motions to adjourn—apparently on a daily basis—as the device most likely to bring the issue to public attention.

The motions are not debatable, but call for a formal, time consuming vote.

The first Conservative motion, asking that the House adjourn, was defeated 132 to 69, with support from 18 New Democrats and opposition from the government, nine Social members, and Independent Roch LaSalle Joliette.

The second motion asked that debate be adjourned. The New Democrats switched sides, as the House was about to debate the government's taxation bill, and the motion went down 140 to 47.

Standing in the 264-seat Commons is Liberals 151, Conservatives 72, NDP 24, Social Credit 13, Independent two, Independent Liberal one and vacant one.

OMITS GOLD

Nixon made no reference to gold although many delegates to the IMF conference have demanded that the U.S. raise its official price from $35 an ounce and thus effectively devalue the dollar.

Conference sources said the Nixon administration is preparing a three-point proposal aimed at solving the present financial deadlock.

"They said the plan calls for an initial agreement on a realignment of currencies and suspension of the import surcharge, followed by an undertaking by other countries to shoulder more of the international defence burden and to liberalize their trade policies."

NEED DISCUSSION

"But if we want to build permanently for the future and build well, then we must have that kind of discussion in which all sides bargain hard in their own interest—we expect you, we expect to—and then have an understanding which is in all our mutual interests," the president said.

Nixon assured them of American co-operation in reducing trade barriers, such as the 10-per-cent charge, and in sharing the burden of defence costs, which was another target of the economic measures he introduced last month.

He also promised that the U.S. would co-operate in monetary reform.

He justified the sweeping reforms of Aug. 15 on the grounds that without them the U.S. would be weak, and "a weak United States would be isolationists without any question."

"A strong United States will continue to play a role that is responsible in the world," Nixon told his guests.

"That is the reason I had to take some of these actions, actions that I know were distress-

Mindszenty Joins His Pope As World Bishops' Synod

VATICAN CITY (Reuter) — Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, self-exiled Roman Catholic primate of Hungary, joined Pope Paul today in celebrating mass at the opening of the third world synod of bishops in the Sistine Chapel.

Four other bishops joined the Pope and cardinal, who came to Rome from Budapest Tuesday after 23 years of confinement, in celebrating the mass.

But the 79-year-old Hungarian primate will play no further part in the synod, which has gathered some 214 bishops from throughout the world to discuss two major problems facing the Catholic Church.

These are the crisis in the priesthood and the stance which the church should take when confronted with situations of social injustice in the world.

The discussion of the priesthood issue will start in earnest Friday with a report by Joseph Cardinal Höffner, archbishop of Cologne, West Germany.

TO CURB DEFECTIONS

The bishops will be trying to find ways of curbing the growing number of defections from the priesthood, which last year ran to about 3,800, one estimate says.

The synod is the third to be held since Pope Paul announced the revival of the early church institution in 1965.

The twin themes of this synod are of great concern and interest to millions of Catholics, with

Aussie Police Battle Students

MELBOURNE, Australia (Reuter) — More than 100 policemen smashed their way at dawn today into the heavily-barricaded student union building at Melbourne University and fought a running battle with students in an attempt to arrest four Australian draft-dodgers believed to be hiding there.

Three policemen were injured in the battle as they swept into the building, smashing plate-glass windows with chairs and using bolt cutters, crow bars and sledge-hammers to clear away student barricades.

Damage was put at thousands of dollars as door frames were ripped from walls and a trail of splintered wood, rubble, plaster and blood spread over three floors of the building.

More Hard Bargaining Faced In Changing Money System

WASHINGTON (Reuter) — Finance ministers and central bankers faced the prospect today of more tough bargaining with the U.S.—as they grappled with the problem of refashioning the world's monetary system.

President Nixon warned them that the measures he imposed last month, which brought the current economic crisis to a head, will remain in force until present monetary woes are resolved.

The measures, which included a 10-per-cent extra charge on imports into the United States, are temporary, he told a White House reception Wednesday night for delegates to the International Monetary Fund's annual conference.

"How long temporary is depends on what we want to come up with," he told them. "If we want to go to another temporary system it would be very, very short."

NEED DISCUSSION

"But if we want to build permanently for the future and build well, then we must have that kind of discussion in which all sides bargain hard in their own interest—we expect you, we expect to—and then have an understanding which is in all our mutual interests," the president said.

Nixon assured them of American co-operation in reducing trade barriers, such as the 10-per-cent charge, and in sharing the burden of defence costs, which was another target of the economic measures he introduced last month.

He also promised that the U.S. would co-operate in monetary reform.

He justified the sweeping reforms of Aug. 15 on the grounds that without them the U.S. would be weak, and "a weak United States would be isolationists without any question."

"A strong United States will continue to play a role that is responsible in the world," Nixon told his guests.

"That is the reason I had to take some of these actions, actions that I know were distress-

Coaches Will Admit Exhibition Valuable

By ROSS PHELPS
Courier Staff

Whether or not exhibition games are of interest to fans, any coach will tell you that it is an invaluable gauge to judge players before actual season play.

Every sport has exhibition play, from the Canadian Football League and the National Hockey League, to the B.C. Junior & Hockey League. The latter two are under way so merit a lot of interest.

First the NHL. Vancouver Canucks are going strong, having not lost a game in seven starts. Of those, though, only three games went into the record books as wins. Remember, Canucks looked good for quite a period last season, then went into a tailspin that saw them barely grab sixth place in the NHL's seven-team Eastern Division.

Of course that was their first year of operation, but it is too soon to be counting them as playoff contenders. It takes time to build a contender in any league.

IT MAY TAKE TIME to build a contender but Wayne North has no intention of wasting any of the time allotted him in making Kelowna Buckaroos over from the league doormat to a serious threat in the ECJHL.

Bucks were only consistent in their ability to reach the loser's column last year. In a 60-game schedule, they failed to win even 10 of the games. Bucks had eight wins and two ties, six of the wins and one of the ties on home ice.

A season like that can be termed the supreme test of the fans, coach and players. If fans are still coming out at the end of the season, the coach is willing to take the reins for another year and the players return, then not all is lost.

North (he is back for another year) points at a 30-30 split this season. Last year Penitence Broncos won the division crown with 36 wins. If Bucks do win their target number, they will be serious contenders for the league crown.

That's a long jump in one year, but North figures he has the players needed to do it.

BUCKS HAVE 23 PLAYERS in camp, after starting out with 43 Friday when camp opened. North said Wednesday, "I think they all will make the team." And that's where the exhibition season comes in handy.

The performance during the pre-season play will determine who will still be around when the regular schedule opens Oct. 8 against Penitence.

Pre-season play will also give an indication of how the fans will accept the 1971-72 version of Kelowna's only team that plays outside competition on a regular basis. There's no senior loop available for viewing, so Bucks have the inside and only track.

As usual, there will be a hard-core group of fans and others who come out on a this-isn't-a-good-night-for-TV-so-why-not? basis. The latter group can't be depended on, but the regulars are usually in the stands come or high water.

Not being a veteran B.C. junior hockey watcher, this season will be an enlightening one, maybe explaining the reasons why prairie teams are reputed to be better than their counterparts over the mountains.

THE ICE FACTOR undoubtedly is one major reason, with the mild climes in B.C. great for those with thin skins, but not so good for those interested in strapping on skates. In Saskatchewan, any back yard can become a skating rink for a major part of the winter; that is impossible in Kelowna.

The lack of ice has a bearing on the fan interest, less people being involved in hockey and skating and not showing much enthusiasm for something they are not in close contact with. Then there are those simply too lazy to get off their backsides.

But minor hockey (speaking of amateur efforts in junior and senior loops) is in desperate plight across Canada. Conflicting interests take away many fans who, a number of years ago, had hockey as a large part of the winter's entertainment.

Hockey has to have a strong selling pitch, and a winning team has a stronger basis on which to sell themselves. Maybe Bucks will be able to sell themselves effectively this year.

Draw Mars Vernon Record As OVSL Into Second Half

Vernon Rangers haven't lost a game yet in the Okanagan Valley Soccer League, having only a tie to mar a 13-game record in the first half of the schedule.

Rangers have 25 points, a healthy eight ahead of Kelowna German Canadians who have two games in hand. Penitence Molson Canadians are third in a close battle for second place with 16 points, having played one more game than the Kelowna squad.

Vernon Kings are in fourth place with seven points while Revelstoke is tied for fifth with Penitence Frontiers. Revelstoke, rejoining the league after an absence of three years, have won their only two starts.

Kelowna Monties trail the seven-team league with only three points in 13 games.

Six of the teams head into the second half of the schedule this weekend with Frontiers getting the bye.

BIDDING THEIR TIME

These young hockey players aren't all that patient as they wait their turn to take the ice at the Kelowna Memorial Arena. This early morning action was taken while another team was on the ice and the next two teams to play waiting at the sidelines for the game to end. The Kelowna and District Minor Hockey Association usually has some teams on the ice early in the morning weekdays and all day during the weekend.

Special Training Program For Track, Field Athletes

Youngsters wanting to polish their track and field skills will be able to take advantage of a winter track program under the coaching of Cathy Langham.

The program, which starts Oct. 4 at 6 p.m. at the Kelowna Secondary School east gym, runs Monday, Wednesday and Thursday from 6-8 p.m. for 24 weeks.

Essos Drubbed By Hat Tigers

VERNON (CP) — Jeff Ablett scored three goals to lead Medicine Hat Tigers of the Western Canada Hockey League to a 10-4 victory over Vernon of the British Columbia Junior Hockey League in an interlocking exhibition game Wednesday night.

The Tigers, who led 5-1 at the end of the first period and 9-3 at the end of the second, had a pair of goals apiece from Tom Lysiak, Derek Kuntz and Randy Andrechuk. Bill Christed added a single to round out the scoring.

Jim Lawrence replied with two goals for Vernon, while teammates Les Salo and Gord Nielson had one each.

Hectic Race For Pennant Honors Boils Down To Only Two Contests

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After 161 games of the regular season, the hectic National League's West Division pennant race boils down to one game . . . or possibly two.

The 162-game schedule reaches its climax tonight, with San Francisco Giants holding a precarious one-game lead over Los Angeles Dodgers.

A San Francisco victory over the Padres at San Diego or a Dodger loss at home against Houston Astros would make the Giants champions and send them into the NL playoffs against Pittsburgh Pirates, beginning Saturday on the West Coast.

However, a Giant setback and a Dodger victory would leave the teams in a tie for the lead and force a one-game playoff Friday at San Francisco.

The Giants, who have led since April 12, muffed an opportunity to clinch the title Wednesday night, bowing to San Diego 4-1 on Nate Colbert's three-run homer in the 10th inning. However, they were assured of no worse than a tie for first place.

Giants champions and send them into the NL playoffs trounced by Houston 11-0.

Montreal defeated Chicago 6-5 in the only other National League game.

The Giants will use their ace right-hander, Juan Marichal, 17-11, against San Diego's Dave Roberts, a tough left-hander with a 14-16 record, in an attempt to win their first title since 1932. However, Marichal has been seeing a doctor about a sore hip and the injury could curtail his effectiveness. Marichal is 3-0 against the Padres this season, while Roberts is 0-3 against the Giants.

Los Angeles' imperturbable manager, Walt Alston, took the Dodgers' defeat as calmly as could be expected. "They just beat the hell out of us," he said. "But it's no worse than losing 1-0. It also was nice to have the Giants lose, but we're still disgusted with our own score."

Alston will send right-hander Don Sutton, 16-12, against former Dodger Jack Billingham, 10-15, in tonight's windup.

JOHNSON VICTIMIZED
Colbert, San Diego's big slugger, said he hit an inside, bell-high fastball off Giants' reliever, Jerry Johnson, 12-9, over the left field wall in the 10th inning for his 27th homer of the season, breaking a 1-1 deadlock.

Tommy Dean started the Padres' winning rally with a leadoff single off Johnson, who had relieved starter John Cumberland with two out in the fifth inning. Don Mason forced Dean but John Jeter reached first and Mason was safe at second when Tito Fuentes dropped shortstop Chris Speier's throw on an attempted force play on Jeter's grounder.

Then, Colbert ended it. Clay Kirby went the distance for San Diego and held the Giants to seven hits for his 15th victory—most by a Padre pitcher in the club's three-year history. He struck out 11.

Houston unleashed a 16-hit assault against Los Angeles, including a homer and two singles by Bob Watson in support of Ken Forsch's nine-hit shutout pitching.

The Astros erupted for four runs in the first inning against 20-game winner Al Downing, Watson singled in the first run, and Larry Howard capped the outburst with a two-run single. Watson homered with one on in the fourth for a 6-0 lead and the Astros added two runs in the fifth, two in the sixth and one in the seventh.

A's Remain In Winning Form With Last Out Win Over KC's

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"I hope nothing like that is necessary against Baltimore—but if it is we can do it," Oakland's Curt Blefary commented.

"That" was a bases-loaded, two-run, two-out double in the bottom of the ninth inning Wednesday that provided the Athletics with a come-from-behind 8-7 victory over Kansas City Royals in their final regular-season game.

The A's, West Division champions in the American League, begin the best-of-five playoffs Saturday in Baltimore—and Oakland Manager Dick Williams says he is happy to be facing the Orioles, who won the Eastern title—and the American League pennant—in 1969 and 1970.

"They're the world champs," Williams pointed out. "They beat the best there was last year. If we beat 'em in the playoffs, we'll feel we've proven something going into the World Series."

Baltimore tuned up for the league showdown by winning its regular-season finale and 11th in a row—equalling the club mark set at the end of the 1970 season—with a 1-0 squeaker over Boston Red Sox.

In other AL action, Minnesota nosed out California 1-0, the Chicago White Sox shaded Milwaukee 2-1, Cleveland clipped Detroit 2-1 and the New York Yankees whipped Washington 6-3.

Bob Oliver slammed two home runs and Paul Schaaf belted one as the Royals rocked Chuck Dobson, slated to start Oakland's third playoff game.

Williams confirmed he would still go with Dobson, but added: "We'll watch him a lot closer than the other two." Vida Blue, 24-5 and Jim (Catfish) Hunter, 21-11.

Dobson, 15-5, who "couldn't get loose" during the six innings he worked, said it "isn't too cheery, but with five days rest I'll be ready."

The Orioles, resting their quartet of 20-game winners—Dave McNally, Jim Palmer, Mike Cuellar and Pat Dobson—gave Grant Jackson his fourth victory, compliments of Brooks Robinson's 20th home run of the year in the second inning.

They weren't too talkative after the game—but one of the Red Sox had a few comments about the site of the first two playoff games.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELLERS' CURLING

The Annual General Meeting will be held at the Curling Club, this Saturday, Oct. 2nd, 10 a.m.

If you are a commercial Traveller and interested in Curling, whether experienced or not, you are welcome to attend this meeting. If unable to attend the meeting, but would like to curl with us on Saturday mornings, phone 765-5426 and leave name, address and phone number.

Before you look at their new ones, look at their old ones.

Now that new car time is upon us, gosh knows, we hate to be the ones to spoil all the fun.

After all, what's more exciting than taking the family down to see the shiny new models or maybe even to pick up a free balloon? It's just that during all that hoopla, you may not want to pick up one of those exciting new cars.

For the unpleasant fact of the matter is that junkyards are doing a thriving business on automobiles that seemingly just yesterday were showroom stars.

Which is why we suggest a trip to the junkyard before you decide to put a new car in your own yard.

And why we suggest that that new car be a Volkswagen.

For while we can't promise you how long one will last, we can tell you that over 13 million Volkswagens are still on the road.

We owe it all to a decision we made 24 years ago: To spend very little time making our little car look better. And a great deal of time making it work better.

So far, that one decision has kept us out of a lot of trouble.

Habs Remain Undefeated But Need Late Rally For Tie

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Montreal Canadiens needed a last-minute rally Wednesday to preserve their undefeated streak in the National Hockey League exhibition series.

Ivan Cournoyer scored with 58 seconds remaining to yield Canadiens a 3-3 tie with New York Rangers before 5,950 fans at Halifax.

The victory left Canadiens with four wins and three ties for 11 points, one ahead of the idle Vancouver Canucks, who are also unbeaten in pre-season games with three victories and four ties.

In other games, California Seals scored their first win since training camp opened, 5-4, over Detroit Red Wings at Oshawa, Ont.; Buffalo Sabres and Pittsburgh Penguins tied 4-4 at Sudbury, Ont., and Los Angeles Kings upset Chicago Black Hawks 5-2 at Victoria.

The first penalty shot of the season was also awarded Wednesday night, but Jacques Laperriere was unable to capitalize for Canadiens when his shot was stopped by Rangers goalie Gilles Villemure.

Rejean Houle and Phil Roberto were the other Montreal marksmen, Pierre Jarry, Rod Gilbert and Ted Irvine connected for New York.

Only 2,619 fans were present at Oshawa to cheer the underdog Seals as they overcame a 4-1 deficit to trim the Wings. Former Boston Bruins goalie Carleton netted the winning goal with less than three minutes remaining.

Other California scorers were Walt McKechnie, Bert Marshall, Tom Williams and Gerry Pinder.

Ho-Hum Eskimos Provide Excitement Kicker Cutler Scores Second Triumph

EDMONTON (CP) — The Eskimos finally won Wednesday night, as Larry Lawrence ignited a fourth-quarter comeback that pushed Edmonton past Montreal Alouettes 12-11 in a Canadian Football League interlocking game.

Cold as the weather for three quarters, and down 8-0, the Eskimos caught fire when Lawrence came on to relieve Bruce Lemmerman.

Dave Cutler warmed the hearts of 13,346 fans who turned out in rain, snow, wind and temperatures in the 30s when he kicked a 52-yard field goal with 10 seconds left to give Edmonton its second win of the season. The Eskimos have lost 10.

Edmonton's previous victory, back on Aug. 4, was also a heart-stopping affair. On that occasion, Cutler kicked a 39-yard field goal with 35 seconds left to give the Eskimos a 20-19 win over British Columbia Lions.

The long-haired Lawrence had muffed earlier opportunities to become Edmonton's first-string quarterback. But he got another chance after the Alouettes intercepted four of Lemmerman's 20 pass attempts.

Lawrence promptly threw a 51-yard touchdown pass to George McGowan and the Eskimos were on their way to snapping an eight-game losing streak.

Bayne Norrie's interception led to a 24-yard field goal by Cutler that put Edmonton ahead for the first time.

Montreal fought back on Sonny Wade's passing and kicked a field goal to go ahead again with one minute and 17 seconds left to play.

But the Eskimos, who had blown a couple of other games this season in the dying minutes, refused to give up this time.

Lawrence threw 17 yards to John Embree, then sent Gene Foster 11 yards on a draw play. Lawrence pushed over centre for three yards, then turned things over to Cutler.

With the wind at his back,

Cutler was right on target, and Montreal was kept out of sole possession of second place in the Eastern Conference. The Alouettes, who play the Lions in Vancouver Saturday, remain in a tie with Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

Edmonton coach Ray Jauch was happy, but not ecstatic.

"It's nice to win," he said, "but we didn't exactly blow them over."

Actually, things still look bleak for the Eskimos. They are in last place, five points behind the Lions and Winnipeg Blue Bombers, and have only a slim

Western Conference

Edmonton Eskimos place-kicker Dave Cutler kicked two field goals in Edmonton's upset 12-11 win over Montreal Alouettes Wednesday to move into fourth place in the Western Football Conference individual scoring race with 58 points.

Cutler trails Saskatchewan Roughriders' George Reed by two points and Larry Robinson of Calgary Stampeders by seven.

Robinson, with 65 points, is well behind Winnipeg Blue Bomber quarterback Don Jonas, who leads the race with 95 points.

Eastern Conference

Montreal kicker Justin Canale

moved into third place in the Eastern Football Conference scoring race Wednesday although the Alouettes were beaten 12-11 by Eskimos.

Canale booted a field goal and two singles for five points to increase his total to 53, one behind his counterpart with Toronto Argonauts, Ivan MacMillan.

9 PAINTINGS STOLEN

MALINES, Belgium (Reuter) — Thieves broke into the Church of St. Jean during the night and stole nine paintings including one by the 16th-century Flemish master Peter Paul Rubens, police said Thursday.

In Brussels last week, an art thief cut from its frame The Love Letter, painted by the 17th-century Dutch Master Johannes Vermeer and valued at more than $2.4 million.

ARMS MOVES REPORTED

JOHANNESBURG (Reuter) — The South African Press Association carried an unconfirmed report Wednesday that large quantities of heavy war equipment have been unloaded at major Tanzanian ports during the last two weeks from Communist Chinese freighters.

The report originated from Beira in Mozambique, but no official confirmation of it has been obtained.

TWO-CHINA POLICY

Envoy Fights Hard Fight

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — George Bush, United States ambassador to the UN, is carrying one of the most concentrated fights by the U.S. in years in an effort to sell the American idea of seating Communist China here without expelling the Nationalists of Taiwan.

It has been reported he would like the No. 2 spot on Nixon's 1972 presidential election ticket, replacing Vice-President Spiro Agnew.

This seems unlikely. What many believe is that Nixon is protecting his rear in next year's elections by making sure that word does not get abroad that he is dumping the Nationalists in favor of normalizing relations with the Communists.

Well before the General Assembly opened last week, the U.S. began to wage a stiff two-China campaign here and in capitals around the world.

It has proved an uphill battle against the Albanians and their allies, who seek to expel the Nationalists and give the seat to the People's Republic of China.

FOREGONE CONCLUSION? It is doubtful that the average American cares about the outcome of the China representation vote to be held near the end of next month. Many are resigned to the fact that Peking will be admitted eventually and that the Nationalists are in a weak position.

But conservatives could give Nixon a rough ride in the election if any suspicion developed that Nixon had not made every effort to preserve a seat for Taiwan.

Nixon's economic policies, especially the 10-per-cent special levy on dutiable imports, is another factor in the China debate.

This surcharge has hurt many countries, including Canada, and there are strong calls here and abroad for its removal. The Americans have said the tax is temporary, but they have not said how temporary.

There is no doubt that many delegations have considered what effect a vote against the U.S. will have on an American decision on the lifting of the surcharge.

No country can be expected to vote against its own principles in an effort to buy off the U.S. But where a country can, it will bend a bit.

This is most clearly seen in Japan's decision to co-sponsor American two-China proposals, despite the fact the action is an embarrassment to the government in Tokyo. The decision was made because the Japanese do not want to anger the U.S. further.

Lesser indications can be seen in the battles to inscribe American proposals on the assembly's agenda last week. Some countries were inclined toward the Albanian demand that the American proposal should be kept off the agenda.

But they decided that they could vote against the Americans during the main China debate in the assembly, and so could let the U.S. have its way in the preliminary skirmishing. They hoped to avoid angering the Americans too much.

Canada and the United Kingdom, for instance, both firmly committed to a one-China policy, abstained on the decision to inscribe the American item.

External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp in his assembly speech Wednesday was careful not to say directly that the delegations should vote against the Americans. Canada's position can be characterized as: Be firm but don't rock the American boat needlessly.

Mazda I600 sedan. $2550.*

And you thought economy meant compromise.

It's the things you don't have to give up that make the Mazda 1600 c.c. Sedan. Like driving. You can go all day without aching in your bones. Or in your pocketbook.

The Mazda 1600 is the most comfortable car in the class. It has a longer wheelbase. A wider stance. And the finest suspension system at any price.

For performance, the overhead cam piston engine is tough and efficient. You can climb mountains and cross prairies without strain. And you'll get top mileage on regular gas.

You don't have to give up on the interior. The Mazda 1600 is luxurious and roomy. With body contoured bucket seats. Wall-to-wall carpeting. Padded dash and fine instrumentation. And a back seat with plenty of legroom.

And unlike a lot of imports the Mazda 1600 Sedan doesn't give up on the outside. It's graceful with lines that flow instead of angles that jar. So it doesn't look like you're driving a bargain.

You could buy a lot of little cars for less. If you don't mind a lot of little compromises. Or you could buy a Mazda 1600 Sedan.

U.S. And Egypt Differ On Value Of Interim Mid-East Settlement

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State William Rogers and Egyptian Foreign Minister Mohamed Badawi have agreed the United States should continue to work for an interim Middle East settlement, but they differ on the value of such efforts.

After a luncheon meeting Wednesday, Rogers told reporters: "Any effort by the United States to achieve peace is welcome."

But he threw some cold water on this effort when he added: "The Jewish mission is still the best way to achieve peace."

Rogers was referring to the United Nations-sponsored effort to

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Another Treatment For Paget's Disease

By George C. Thosteson, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I was told by my orthopedic doctor four years ago that I have Paget's disease. He said he was sorry there was nothing that could be done for me.

He never did explain what it was, aside from being a bone disease. What causes it? Is it ever possible to get better? I am in constant pain and my pills don't help any more. I am 61. — E.I.G.

We think of our bones as being solid and permanent. Actually, the bone substance is constantly being changed. The calcium (the principal constituent of bone) is being carried away ("resorbed" by the body) and new calcium replaces it.

This occurs a cell at a time, and the bone structure and shape remain relatively unchanged.

With Paget's disease, this resorption and replacement process is very rapid instead of being gradual. The result is that the bone can be rebuilt into an abnormal structure. In fact, that is what you expect with Paget's disease. Shape and density for bone in various areas can change, putting stress on adjacent organs and causing the pain that goes with the disease.

The cause of the disease is not known; therefore we are at a loss to combat it except by such methods as may be discovered pretty much accidentally.

When your trouble was diagnosed four years ago, there was little that could (or needed to) be done except to relieve pain. The condition, after all, is both ermsome to your because of the pain, not so much for any other reason.

In the last few years it has been noted that an antibiotic, mithramycin, is very effective in treating Paget's disease.

This action is quite apart from the drug's essential purpose, which is to subdue bacterial infections. For reasons we do not understand, the mithramycin has some effect on calcium metabolism which appears to arrest the process involved in Paget's disease and relieve the painful symptoms. You might discuss this with your doctor.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there any way possible for someone like me to get medication for being allergic to cats? Every time I go near one my eyes water, I sneeze, breathing becomes difficult and a small rash appears.

I love cats but it's really impossible when you have a condition like this. Any cure? — J.C.

I think you'd better give up cats.

There is such a thing as having a series of desensitization injections given by an allergist, but at best this can only protect you against mild exposure.

I would predict that even if you had very good results from the desensitization you'd probably overestimate your tolerance, pet a cat or two—and find your allergy suddenly just as bad as ever. You'd be right back where you started.

Your best bet is to avoid cats. Love 'em at a distance.

Opening lead—nine of spades.

The opening lead has a decisive effect on the outcome of many hands. Sometimes it defeats a contract, and sometimes it hands declarer the contract on a silver platter. Quite often it radically changes the course of play, for it may compel declarer to follow a procedure he would not normally have considered.

Take this deal where West has not clearly indicated lead, and decides to tee off with a trump. This proves to be the best shot he can make, for, had he started with a heart or a club, South would be able to ruff a heart in dummy and thus acquire a tenth trick.

But the trump lead makes the future less rosy, so far as South is concerned. He must decide at once whether or not to try to ruff a heart in dummy. In the actual hand, if he tries for the best defense.

Thus, suppose he wins the spade in dummy and leads a heart at trick two. East wins and returns a trump. When declarer then leads another heart, West wins and plays his last trump. South eventually goes down one, losing three hearts and a diamond.

However, the opening trump lead should persuade South that trying for a heart ruff is a rather hopeless proposition. The defenders will obviously not sit still and let him ruff a heart in dummy.

So South turns to a different course of play, forced upon him by the opening lead. Upon winning the first trick in dummy, he plays the A-J of diamonds, hoping to find the suit divided 3-3 and thus be able to establish dummy's diamonds. This counterstroke proves successful, and, in fact, if the defenders do not promptly cash two hearts, South makes eleven tricks.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Some information you receive causes you to cancel a trip.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — If you've had a misunderstanding, now's the time to clear the air.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — A day in which to evaluate your accomplishments—with an eye to the future.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — You can now advance some personal wishes, but don't act impulsively.

July 24 to Aug. 23 (Leo) — Make simplicity and understatement your keywords. Avoid elaborate details.

Aug. 24 to Sept. 23 (Virgo) — A friend of long standing offers to count you in on a business deal.

Sept. 24 to Oct. 23 (Libra) — Keep the meeting brief if running into unconventional acquaintances.

Oct. 24 to Nov. 22 (Scorpio) — Superiors, appreciative of your efforts, are likely to grant requests.

Nov. 23 to Dec. 21 (Sagittarius) — Promising news about a business investment. You can breathe more freely.

Dec. 22 to Jan. 20 (Capricorn) — Someone met through business takes a personal interest in you.

Jan. 21 to Feb. 19 (Aquarius) — Unusual challenges indicated. Meet with courage and directness.

Feb. 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — A "light" domestic situation can be solved with tact.

Astroscopes — Stellar influences for this day indicate a need for practicality and conservatism. In job-business affairs, this will not be a particularly good period in which to launch new ventures and, on the financial score, it will again be vitally important that any agreements or transactions be thoroughly understood, since tendencies toward the misleading will prevail at certain times. Remember that, once you've signed "on the dotted line," adjustments will be difficult to make. Don't be stampeded out of a good thing, however, through anxiety or fear of loss.

Employment Of Blind People Main Aim Of CNIB Traveller

VANCOUVER (CP) — A little girl once asked Bruce R. Bellinger to take her across a city intersection.

"Of course," he replied, "Just tell me when the light turns green."

Mr. Bellinger, of Toronto, although blind, is used to travelling alone.

As supervisor of 530 retail sales and catering outlets of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, he travels the 10 provinces four days out of every 10.

This year, he also will be on the road as president of the 2,800-member Canadian Restaurant Association.

"I have eight-percent vision," he said, "which means I can decipher printed matter with my nose on the page, and with the aid of a 64-dioptre glass I recognize some shapes and colors."

LEARNING NOT EASY

Here for the 1971 Food and Hospitality Show at the Pacific National Exhibition ground, he said: "I have sort of learned where to go, learned what to do, and that has not been easy. The learning hasn't happened overnight.

"To a large extent I find my way by following the crowd. Usually it goes in the right direction. And I have to ask directions."

"Getting over the embarrassment of having to do that has probably been the highest hurdle. But I've gotten used to it."

Mr. Bellinger's sight faded after a 1943 brain operation. He does not use a white cane or guide dog.

As national director of Catering services of the CNIB, Mr. Bellinger is responsible for the location, planning, management and food preparation for cafeterias, executive dining rooms, lunch rooms, mobile canteens and vending units.

HAS TWO OBJECTIVES

"Our purpose is two-fold—to employ as many capable blind people as we can and to make revenue to carry on the work for the blind."

Persons employed in the catering operations are paid competitive wages except in special cases.

Sunnyvale Workshop Here
Makes Items For Wedding

WESTBANK (Special)—Snow on the mountain flowers and orange chrysanthemums graced the altar and green vases of pink, white, mauve and yellow gladioli decorated St. George's Anglican Church, Westbank, for the wedding of Patricia Adeline Usher and Howard Bruce Archibald. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Arthur Usher of Westbank. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Archibald of Peachland. The double-ring rites were solemnized by Rev. Canon R. W. Brown.

Organist was Mrs. J. de C. Paynter of Westbank. Pew markers of white satin bows topped with blue and yellow pom poms with long net streamers encasing autumn leaves were made by the Sunnyvale Workshop as were car decorations.

Given in marriage by her father and mother, the bride entered the church to the strains of the Wedding March, on the arm of her father. She wore a floor-length honeymoon crepe gown. Fashioned in Empire style with lace bodice, it featured bell sleeves with deep lace cuffs with scalloped lace edges and mauve ribbon bands. Mauve ribbon and scalloped lace also accented the high neckline. The skirt featured raised embroidery and lace scallops with a six inch ruff around the hemline. A flowing veil and train of silk illusion veiling, with trim to match the dress edging, surrounded her and was held in place by her satin rose head-ress.

She carried a bouquet in crescent shape of pink fair roses, mauve d'elance carnations and white daisies. Something old and borrowed was an embroidered handkerchief, heirloom of the family. New was her wedding gown and blue, her garter.

Matron of honor was Louise

MR. AND MRS. H. B. ARCHIBALD (Sooter's Studio)

Adlerly of Peachland. Bridesmaids were Debby Dana of Rutland, Carole Colby and Delores Dunn, of Peachland. They were identically gowned in long peasant skirts, with deep ruffles at the hemline.

Best man was Eric Ulbrich of Vancouver. The groom's attendants were Brian Flintoff of Edmonton, Dave Gillam of Vancouver and Grant Topham of Kamloops. Ushers were Robert Adlerly and Roy Garraway, of Peachland.

Financial Situation
Of Fall Fair Discussed

PEACHLAND (Special)—Reports on the 54th annual fall fair held this month and suggestions for improvements, were dealt with at the home of Mrs. George Tuck on Beach Avenue.

Though the fair was a success as far as entries and local participation were concerned, without the government grant for judges fees not received to date, and the raffle held, the fair would be in the red this year, reported treasurer Mrs. Doug Pitman. Raising prizes by 25 cents each to $1.50 for first and $1 for second, and the 140 entries which were received in the junior section, with no entry fees, were responsible.

She reported general expenses had been as usual, and cash donations could still be received.

Members of the committee felt the fair is not a money-making venture. However, before next year the committee must take a long look at this report and try to find the answer.

The trophy donated in memory of Mrs. D. W. Miller, to be given next year for the most points in rugs, was discussed and a letter of thanks will be sent to the family. It was decided to leave this trophy on display in the special case in the new Centennial Room until next fair day.

Some suggestions were made, such as the need for two more junior small trophies now that that section has been split into two age groups. There were complaints about two fair committee raffles being run fair day, as well as tickets being sold on the riding club raffle outside the hall.

Serving refreshments in the hall fair day is always a headache to the committee and it was felt if some other local group could be obtained to give this service in future it would be advisable. Otherwise they would only be served in the afternoon, buffet style.

All suggestions were listed by the secretary so they could be brought back to the committee in the spring. Each section director was asked to make a written report on her section, listing recommendations for changes in fair list for 1972.

The annual meeting of the group was set for Oct. 26 at 8 p.m. in the recreation hall.

Booth Visitors
Set A Record

PEACHLAND (Special)—There was more business this year at a tourist booth operated by Peachland Chamber of Commerce than in any of the other four years the booth has been opened, chamber members were told recently.

A vote of thanks was given operator Jim Wilds; also Mrs. Erma Merchant, Roy Freeman and Bob Rujan, who assisted.

Support was expressed for efforts by Penticton Chamber of Commerce to have a bypass put around that city. This has been discussed for some years, and endorsed by delegates to the B.C. Chamber of Commerce annual meeting in Kelowna during June.

The secretary was asked to write Premier W. A. C. Bennett, MLA for this riding, and the B.C. highways department.

Complaints were made about the intersection of Highway 97 and Princeton Avenue, and dust on the part of the avenue recently built to the sawmill. Mayor Harold Thwaite said council has asked the highways department to do something about the dust. The chamber voted to do the same.

Vice-president Fred Gray will represent the chamber at a public meeting on the future of the Okanagan Valley. The meeting is being held by the Okanagan Basin Water Board 8 p.m., Oct. 14 in the Kelowna Community Theatre.

A dental clinic on wheels may come here. Dr. L. J. Hepler, who operates a clinic in a former bus, offered to come to Peachland. Since there is no dentist here, members thought it might be good.

Concern was expressed about plans by E. A. Haymour of Poplar Point, Kelowna, to develop a resort on an island opposite Peachland. Mr. Haymour addressed the meeting.

Oct. 22 was tentatively set for the next meeting, suggested as a dinner meeting with a speaker. Final arrangements will be made by directors next week.

First Director Is Hired
For Recreation Programs

PEACHLAND (Special)—The parks and recreation commission will hire a recreation program director this winter for the first time. This was the decision of the commission at a special meeting held recently in the Centennial Room. Guests at this meeting were Jon MacKinnon, B.C. government recreation consultant from Kelowna, and Kathy Langham of Kelowna who was hired.

She will be available in Peachland two nights a week from Nov. 1 to March 1, and will set up recreational programs for youngsters and young adults from seven years old to 17. Tentative nights set aside for these activities were Tuesdays and Wednesdays. Programs to be offered will be set later but could include indoor sports and games, also arts and crafts or any recreational activity which the age groups are interested in. Miss Langham made arrangements to meet with students of all age groups and report back to a commission meeting Oct. 6 with a tentative program.

Cars Going Slow
Should Pull Off

KAMLOOPS — Slow moving vehicles should pull off the road if more than five vehicles are behind them, says a resolution from the Social Credit Constituency Association. It will be presented to the Nov. 5-6 convention of the Social Credit League.

MLA Phil Gaglardi, who endorsed the resolution, said there is such a law in California. "It should be a law that no vehicle be allowed to carry a camper or pull a trailer unless it can make the highway speed limit and, if it can't make the speed, it must pull over if five cars get behind it," he said, and suggested brakes should be provided that would slow trailers before vehicles pulling them were slowed.

The MLA said that while he was highways minister, he had a plan made for a one-mile passing lane every 10 miles along the Trans-Canada Highway, and was planning to rebuild the highway from the intersection of the Merritt highway to flat land west of Cherry Creek, near Kamloops.

But he said careless driving and impaired driving are mainly to blame for accidents.

Get Acquainted Dance
Is Being Planned

LAKEVIEW HEIGHTS (Special)—The Lakeview Heights Recreation Commission is planning a dance to get acquainted with new neighbors. Many newcomers have arrived during the summer. It will be at the Westbank Community Hall Oct. 16 at 9:30 p.m.

The music will be provided by the Savage Brown. Clothes will be no problem as is a "hard times" theme. Tickets are available from Highway Motors and from members Mrs. F. Williams, Mrs. W. Brigada, Mrs. E. Chore and Mrs. A. McLeod.

TOURIST FIGURES
Tourists visiting Cyprus in the first half of 1971 numbered 68,419, about 34 per cent more than in the same six months of 1970, records show.
